MEXICAN REVOLUTIONISTS IN RETREAT FROM FEDERAL TROOPS WITH SERIOUS LOSSES.

KILL FINANCIAL AGENT

Gonzalo C. Emille, Friend of Rebel Leader and Financial Supporter of Cause, Wounded by Assassins.

Rihauco, Mexico, May 13.—The rebel cause in the engagement of yesterday, were great. The rebels suffered heavily and except for the loss of important positions at Conchos they claim an even break in the fighting. All of the generals and their commands have been ordered to mobilize here where the entire fighting strength of the insurgents will be thrown against the enemy.

Is Orozco Dead? Juarez, May 13.—Rumors are persistent here that General Orozco is dead. It is reported he was killed by his own men. Messages received here as late as 10 o'clock today were signed by the rebel chief and confirmation of the report is lacking.

Financial Agent Shot. Chihuahua, May 13.—Gonzalo C. Emille, admittedly the financial agent of the Mexican revolution, was shot today by a group of rebels. He was wounded in the chest and is now in a hospital. His death would be a severe blow to the rebel cause.

Rebels in Retreat. Toluca, Mexico, May 13.—The rebels, who have been making rapid progress in the state of Mexico, are now in retreat. They have been driven back by the federal troops and are now regrouping. The rebels claim to have suffered heavy losses in the fighting.

Five bridges spanning wide arroyos were destroyed by the insurgents, causing delay to the government troops. No fighting is expected to take place today as both sides are occupied with their dead and wounded from yesterday's engagement.

The rebels are believed to have lost six hundred killed and wounded. For Final Stand. Rihauco, Mex., May 12.—General Orozco, rebel chief, today mustered his army for a final stand against the advance of the federal army. Admitting that the government troops are better equipped in artillery, the rebel leader is withdrawing his troops to the vicinity of Rihauco, so they may have the advantage of fortification, and it is in this vicinity that three weeks ago the rebels nearly annihilated the federal command of General Gonzalez Salas, who committed suicide while the battle was in progress.

Advantage to Federals. Cornudas, Mex., May 12.—General Orozco, the rebel head, has been driven northward to El Paso. The rebels advance guard, after the defeat at Chihuahua, fifty miles north of Torreon, was today sighted behind Torreon, thirteen miles north of here, on the Mexican Central railway.

Though skirmishing is expected instantly, another decisive crash probably will not occur for twenty-four hours. Rihauco may again be the meeting place of the two armies. Thus far the government troops have had the advantage as they have steadily driven the rebels northward toward the American border.

The stubborn fire of the artillery which succeeded in driving the insurgents so far back that their infantry fire became ineffective is counted upon to force Orozco still farther northward.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS RIGHTS OF CHEROKEE BABIES

Washington, May 13.—The rights of about five thousand Cherokee babies, born after Sept. 1, 1902, and living on March 1, 1906, to participate on an equal footing with other Cherokees in the governmental distribution of several million dollars of the Cherokee funds in the treasury, was upheld today by the supreme court of the United States. The court refused to enjoin the secretary of the interior and the secretary of the treasury from paying the money to the babies.

Isaac Kappan, aged sixty, her father-in-law, was arrested and now is in jail at Marion.

INTERCHANGE OF STUDENTS WITH EUROPE PROPOSED

Madison, May 13.—That the universities of Europe and America are planning to become better acquainted with each other not only through the existing system of exchanging professors, but through a proposed system of exchanging students is shown by the announcement of a visit of Dr. Henry W. Cross of London, Eng., secretary of the association of the international interchange of students, who will be at the university of Wisconsin next Thursday to talk about the new movement for the exchange of students and to arrange for a tour of American students through the British Isles next summer.

Secretary of State Frear Voices Protest in Letter to State Board of Agriculture.

Madison, Wis., May 13.—Secretary of State James A. Frear, as chairman of the state board of immigration, registered a formal protest today against another exhibit by the Canadian government at the Wisconsin state fair. In a letter addressed to the state board of agriculture he said in part:

"The immigration board of Wisconsin has over invited competition with any and all states and countries, if it be made on an equal basis, believing that Wisconsin offers better opportunities and inducements to settlers than can be found elsewhere. The last legislature, however, refused to make any additional allowance to the board, confining the appropriation to $7,000 (consolidated of which is expended for salaries, postage, etc., with which to exploit the needs of Wisconsin. This spirit of false economy is entirely at variance with the policy pursued by the Canadian government and railways. It is safe to say several times the amount expended for advertising purposes by Wisconsin within the borders of our own state is expended by the Canadian government to persuade our people to leave the state.

"Our board is prepared to show that the statements made by the Canadian literature are misleading in many respects and are calculated to disparage the people who leave our state. We are further prepared to show by the statements of Wisconsin people who have returned from Canada that conditions there were misrepresented to them and they returned to Wisconsin poorer but wiser from the experience. Our board is further prepared to show that the Canadian exhibit at other places have endeavored to secure products grown in Wisconsin to exhibit as Canadian products, showing the willingness to perpetuate fraud upon the people that ought to be condemned by your board. No objection is made to competitive exhibits by other states within our own country, but wherever Wisconsin has exhibited in adjoining states it has been upon the invitation of such states."

Although the state agricultural board can probably secure a handsome payment from the Canadian government for handling the concession, added Mr. Frear, he believed it is against the interests of this state to do so.

Pastor Sentenced to Death For Murder of Avis Linnell to Await Death in State Prison.

Boston, May 13.—"Richeson seems to be standing up well under the ordeal," said the former minister's counsel, William A. Morse, upon leaving the Charles street jail today after his customary morning visit to the man condemned to die next week for the murder of Avis Linnell. "I know nothing of course, of the results of the conclusions of those insanity experts appointed by Gov. Foss," continued Mr. Morse. "But it looks as if all the reports would be in the hand of the governor before the regular council meeting on Wednesday." Sheriff Quinn announced today that Richeson would not be removed to the chamber in the state prison where he will await death, until after the meeting of the council on Wednesday. "In order to give the alienists a chance to examine their examinations under the same conditions as those of yesterday and Saturday."

When the news of his death Saturday night had spread, it caused more excitement than his shooting from ambush a week ago while standing in the door of his store. The temper of the mountaineers is said to indicate an immediate re-opening of the Callahan-Benton feud. The circuit court convening May 27 will take up the assassination.

Methodist Clergy Who Make Special Charges for Lectures While on $5,000 Salary, "On Carpet."

Minneapolis, Minn., May 13.—That the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church who charge for special sermons and lectures when they receive each year a salary of $5,000 and traveling expenses may receive a "slap" is indicated by the general conference closed, as indicated by several memorials on the subject which have been presented to the committee on episcopacy. It is claimed by those behind the memorials that the salary of the bishops is exorbitant and that in many cases the price for lectures or sermons are so exorbitant that the poorer churches, which need help most, are unable to pay it. It is rumored that the episcopacy committee as a sort of compromise between the two factions will recommend the retirement of two bishops at the present session. One faction, it is said, urges the retirement of several, while the other faction favors the withdrawal of a few and from active service of but one man.

That Copenhagen, Denmark may receive an episcopacy, is also talked of among the delegates. The episcopacy committee is also said to have voted in favor of an episcopal residence in Rome, Italy and probably one at Hamburg, Germany. The committee is said to have favored the retention of the episcopacy at St. Paul instead of moving it to Minneapolis, which is said to have been favored by the sub-committee.

China Is Endorsed

POLAND'S TRAP FOR ARCHBALD FAILURE

Coal Dealer Tries to Get Archbald Mixed Up in Katydid Culp Affair But Is Discovered.

Washington, May 13.—A purported elaborate plan of W. P. Boland, the Scranton, Pa., coal dealer, who originated the charges against Judge Archbald, of the commerce court to entrap the jurist in embarrassing transactions was revealed today before the house judiciary committee which is investigating the case.

Allen Cockrell, confidential secretary of the interstate commerce committee read to the committee his memorandum of W. P. Boland's original statement of the charges against Judge Archbald and Boland, according to the memorandum, told interstate commerce commissioner Meyer he purposely sought to entrap Judge Archbald in the Katydid Culp bank transaction after a demand in a suit against his coal company had been decided against him in Judge Archbald's court.

Boland declared he sent J. J. Williams, to Archbald to handle him into the Katydid Culp option deal with the Erie railway after Williams had some to him with Judge Archbald's $500 note for discount. Boland refused to discount the note and subsequently his demand was decided against him.

Immigration Problems Discussed Today at National Meeting at Indianapolis.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 12.—After consideration of the resolutions and platform of the socialists, the national convention today began the consideration of the report of the special committee on immigration, extension of socialist propaganda among foreigners and a campaign of votes for women in states which have not granted them the ballot. The committee on immigration has been unable to agree and a majority and minority report will be submitted.

A majority report says that owing to social and racial peculiarities the Asiatic races are most difficult to mold into an effective revolutionary body and that the socialists don't welcome this immigration and that its effect upon the economic and political organization of the party is destructive. It also says that the exclusion of the Asiatic immigrants cannot and will not be arranged against the majority report. It declares that the workers of the Pacific coast demand Asiatic exclusion.

Candidates for vice president and president are to be nominated before the conference is adjourned. Industrial Workers of the World and socialists of San Diego, Cal., today made a telegraphic appeal to the national socialist convention in session here for an appropriation with which to employ counsel to defend the one hundred and fifty union men paid to be in jail there charged with rioting, and to oppose the passage of a city ordinance for deportation of all trades unions that made a public demonstration for "free speech."

HAYWARD IN CHARGE PRELIMINARY WORK

Takes Personal Supervision of Preparations for Republican National Convention.

Chicago, May 13.—Secretary William Hayward of New York City today assumed personal charge of the preliminary work of the republican national committee which is scheduled to begin the hearing of delegates' contests June 6.

Secretary Hayward declined to discuss his plan for a readjustment of representation from the Southern states. The change proposed by Secretary Hayward is said to provide for representation by congressional districts based on the actual vote cast. Four years ago it was suggested to reduce the representation with the states as the unit, but no action was taken.

"There are a number of plans suggested," said Mr. Hayward, "but I do not care to talk about mine until I decide whether it will be submitted to the convention."

OKLAHOMA FORBIDDEN TO TAX ITS INDIANS

Less Than Half Blood Indians Cannot be Taxed According to Decision of Supreme Court.

Washington, May 13.—Many millions of dollars in taxes were lost today by the state of Oklahoma by a decision of the supreme court of the United States that the state cannot tax land allotted to about 9,000 less than half blood Indians.

The state claimed the right to tax the lands under a law which provided that the land of less than half blood Indians in Oklahoma should be free from restrictions as to sale and subject to taxation. The court held that the terms of the patents to the Indians were binding in the Indians' claim and so it terms one of which exempted the land from taxation should be binding on the government.

Constitutional Provision May Prevent Judge Barnes Being a Democratic Candidate for Governor.

Madison, Wis., May 13.—Justice John Barnes of the Wisconsin supreme court may be prevented from becoming a candidate for governor on the democratic ticket by a constitutional provision. Discovery of a clause in the basic law of the state applicable only to judges may preclude his candidacy for eight years more, when the term for which he was elected expires.

Judge Barnes' term of office will end Jan. 1, 1920, having been elected in the fall of 1909. The provision in the constitution which seems to bar him, even if he resigned, from becoming a legally qualified candidate for governor, reads as follows: "Article 7, sec. 10. Each of the judges of the supreme court shall receive a salary payable quarterly. . . . they shall hold no office of public trust except a judicial office during the term for which they are respectively elected, and all votes for either of them for any office, except a judicial office, given by the legislature or the people, shall be void."

Attorneys who have examined the constitution are of the opinion that Mr. Barnes, having been elected for a term ending Jan. 1, 1920, could not accept an office within that period of time, even though he might resign from the supreme court to do so. They go even farther and claim that the legislature under the same clause could not legally elect him to any office. If some lawyers it is claimed that were he to receive a majority of the votes cast in a gubernatorial election, the man who stood second might bring an action before the supreme court to oust him from office, and the votes cast for the judge would not be counted.

Daniel G. Reid on Stand Today in Government's Suit to Dissolve the Steel Trust.

New York, May 13.—Daniel G. Reid, the railroad financier and director of the United States steel corporation, and member of its finance committee, was called as a witness at the resumption today of the hearing in the government's suit to dissolve the corporation, before Commissioner Brown.

Mr. Reid was asked to describe competitive conditions among the constituent companies of the American Tin Plate Company before its organization in 1892. Judge Dickinson, of counsel for the government, read from a long list about thirty-five of these companies and asked the witness if they were all engaged in the tinplate business and in competition with each other. "They were," Mr. Reid replied. "With whom did you compete?" "Judge Moore. He had a reputation as an organizer. The idea was to form a company taking in some of the larger and better plants." "Did you take in others?" "Oh, yes. These came in later." "Were your tin plate companies engaged in any pool?" "Not to my knowledge." "The witness then volunteered an explanation that the tin makers had met every year to fix the wage schedule of employees, but these meetings had nothing to do with fixing prices. Thirty-nine plants operating two hundred mills were taken into the tin plate company, he said, which represented about ninety per cent of the tin plate industry."

ISSUE ORDERS FOR MACHINERY GUARDS

Industrial Commission Sends Out General Orders to Safeguard Machinery and Elevators.

After more than six months of continuous investigation, the industrial commission of Wisconsin has formally adopted thirty general orders relating to the safeguarding of machinery and elevators. These are the first of several orders to be published from time to time by the commission. They will affect practically every manufacturing industry in the state, and are an important part of the national campaign for the prevention of accidents.

The new general orders will become effective on June 13 when they will have the full force and effect of law. They require guards on all emery wheels, belts, belt-shifters, clutches, fly-wheels, and other moving parts of machinery, which form a menace to life and limb of working men. The orders also require practically the elimination of the dangerous projecting set-screw, which has been responsible for hundreds of deaths and serious injuries. The circular saw and the band saw are also mentioned in the orders. These must be guarded in such a way as to minimize the hazard. The orders relating to elevators are in a separate chapter and have been constructed so as to avoid conflict with existing local ordinances. They apply both to passenger and freight elevators and will make it necessary for hundreds of concerns to equip their elevators in such a way as to avoid accidents to employees and passengers.

The orders of the commission were formulated by a special committee of experts representing the most important industries of the state. Practical machinists, experienced manufacturers and machinery experts gave their services to the commission by serving on a special committee, which was organized last November. The fact that the rules were formulated by practical manufacturers and others will spare Wisconsin industries from the hardships imposed in other states where the factory laws have not been based upon actual practice.

The orders as issued by the commission will be sent in the form of an illustrated bulletin to every manufacturer in the state. The bulletin will be the first of a monthly series to be issued by the commission.

REVISION OF PASSENGER RATES ON THE RAILROADS

New Rates, With Increase of One to Three Cents on Each Ticket, in Effect Commencing May 15.

Commencing Wednesday, May 15, the new passenger rates on the two railroads running into this city will be in effect, a revision of the old rates having been made whereby an increase is made on each ticket sold to nearby points of from one to three cents. The only exception to this rule is that the St. Paul railroad decreases its rate to Milwaukee from $1.43 to $1.42. The greatest increase shown is to Rockford, the price of tickets to this point over the St. Paul line being sixty-six instead of sixty-three cents. Tickets to Chicago over this line will cost two cents more—$1.84 instead of $1.82—and a similar increase is made in the price of tickets to Stoughton and Milton. Increases of one cent will be in effect on passenger transportation to Beloit, Waubesa, Whitewater, Edgerton, Madison, Haverhill, Brodhead, Orfordville, Burlington, Mineral Point, and Racine.

Recent legislation in various states whereby the railroads are required to pay more taxes, is said to be the cause of the increase. The Interstate Commerce Commission advised the railroads to collect fares of two cents or fraction thereof in states where the twenty-cent passenger law is in effect, and it is understood that the rail-

HOW MUCH DOES ADVERTISING INTEREST YOU?

By W. C. Kenaga.

The real science of advertising is in its infancy, growing in importance every day.

Yet advertising itself is as old as man. Witness that Noah advertised prior to the flood and those who heeded his advertising profited; that Joseph used his own brothers to advertise the fertile lands of the Nile; that Sampson through his feats of strength was known the length and breadth of the land.

Today you advertise. Yes, Madam, you do! You give your neighbor a cake recipe and thus advertise your ability as a cake maker; your taste in the hat and clothes you wear; your children, advertise your care of them; when you call on a friend you leave a card—advertising the fact that you have been to that particular home.

The merchant or manufacturer calls on you through his "copy" in "The Gazette," telling you what he has to offer and asking for your patronage for the mutual benefit of you as reader and himself as advertiser.

Really you are more interested in advertising than you thought you were! And because you are interested you will be reading from day to day the little talks on advertising which will appear in the Gazette.

roads are going to collect for the fractional miles where heretofore they have made no charge for the fractional miles.

HARRY W. BROWN MAN OF SUCCESS

The passing of Harry W. Brown takes from the city a business man who achieved success through his untiring industry, combined with honorable and upright dealing. He started into business with his own energy and ambition as capital and with the assistance and counsel of his brother, E. T. Brown, he became one of Janesville's most successful retail merchants.

Not in business alone, however, did Mr. Brown win success. He was ever actively interested in the affairs of the city and was twice elected as alderman from the Third ward. In the deliberations of the common council his word found much weight and his convictions were always respected by his associates. He worked for the interests of his city in every way possible and his efforts made him many true friends who mourn his loss.

Local Sand and Gravel Companies Fighting Proposed Increase of Freight Rates.

Attorney Charles E. Pierce is preparing a brief in one of the most important rate propositions that has affected Janesville shippers for many years, which is to be decided upon by the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington. It directly affects three of the large sand and gravel companies here and represents an investment of some seventy thousand dollars and also involves the question of the right of the railroads concerning here making rates which would practically put the local concerns out of business or compel them to run at a serious loss.

An examination was held in Chicago some weeks ago at which time the rights of the Southern Wisconsin Sand and Gravel company, the Clark and Fisher and the Janesville Sand and Gravel Company were protected by a restraining order compelling the railroads to retain the present rate of a cent and a quarter a hundred pounds until the case is decided by the Interstate Commerce Commission was obtained.

Mr. Pierce in his brief makes some serious charges against the railroads alleging that the increase of the rates from one and three quarters cents to three cents is done in the interest of the Kluckert-Boeker gravel company, which until recently had a pit and shipping station here who seek to do away with all competition. The first trouble to the local company came last November, when switching charges were made of two dollars and later in February the railroad filed the increased tariff rate.

The Kluckert-Boeker company has removed their scene of activity to what is known as the "Inner Zone" and received a special rate. The proposed increase in rates would mean that the local concerns would have to charge seven cents more a yard for gravel. Under the old rate the cars were eighteen dollars per car while under the new rates they would run $27. Mr. Pierce will file his brief with the commission and they may decide without any further hearing. However, if they ask for an oral argument Mr. Pierce will go to Washington. The matter is one of importance to Janesville shippers and the outcome will be watched with interest.

INSTALL MONSTER CLOCK AT THE MERCHANTS BANK

Electric Tubular Time Clock Being Placed in Front of Building on West Milwaukee Street.

An electric tubular time clock is being installed in front of the building of the Merchants Savings bank on West Milwaukee street. The time piece will stand eight feet in height and will present two dials each thirty inches in diameter. At every quarter hour chimes will ring as follows: quarter past the hour, four strokes or the Westminster; half past, eight strokes, Beethoven; quarter to the hour, twelve strokes, Cathedral; and at the hour the Westminster chime of sixteen strokes followed by the sounding of the hour. The clock was purchased at considerable expense from a Minneapolis firm and will be a valuable addition to the bank's equipment.

MAY NOT PROSECUTE ALLEGED HORSE THIEF

Doubt That Baker Had Part in Theft of Goodman Horse—Walwa Examination for Schmidt.

Failure to secure evidence against Charles Baker, who with Frank Schmidt was arrested at Beloit a week ago, charged with stealing a horse from the Goodman livery in this city, may result in his dismissal and the cancelling of the charges against him. The defendants were brought into court this morning and on the motion of Attorney John L. Fisher, their counsel, Judge Philbrick adjourned the hearing of Baker until tomorrow morning. Frank Schmidt valued examination and his trial was set for Saturday, April 18, at ten o'clock a. m. In default of the payment of $500 bail required for his appearance in court he will await his trial in jail. Attorney Fisher requested more time for the consideration of Baker's case, and this motion was seconded by District Attorney Dunwiddie, who appears for the state.

BUILDING FOOD

To Bring the Babies Around.

When a little human machine (or a large one) goes wrong, nothing is so important as the selection of food to bring it around again.

"My little baby boy fifteen months old, had pneumonia, then came brain fever, and no sooner had he got over those than he began to cut teeth and being so weak, he was frequently drawn into convulsions," says a Colorado mother.

"I decided a change might help, so took him to Kansas City for a visit. When we got there he was so very weak, when he would cry he would sink away and seemed like he would die."

"When I reached my sister's home she said immediately that we must feed him Grape-Nuts and, although I had never used the food, we got some and for a few days just gave him the juice of Grape-Nuts and milk. He got stronger so quickly we were soon feeding him the Grape-Nuts itself and in a wonderfully short time he fattened right up and became strong and well."

"That showed me something worth knowing and, when later on my little girl came, I asked her on Grape-Nuts and she is a strong, healthy baby and has been. You will see from the little photograph I send you what a strong, chubby youngster the boy is now, but he didn't look anything like that before we found this nourishing food. Grape-Nuts nourished him back to strength when he was so weak he couldn't keep any other food on his stomach." Name given by Postum Co., Little Creek, Mich.

All children can be built to a more sturdy and healthy condition upon Grape-Nuts and cream. The food contains the elements nature demands, from which to make the soft gray filling in the nerve centres and brain. A well fed brain and strong, sturdy nerves absolutely insure a healthy body.

WATER PRESSURE CAUSES FIRE ALARM

Department Called to Janesville Battering Mills Yesterday Morning—Still Alarm Today.

High water pressure in the city mains, applied for the purpose of filling the reservoir at the cemeteries, resulted in a false alarm being sent in from the Janesville Battering Mills at seven o'clock yesterday morning. The sprinkler system at the battling mills has a "tell-tale" which is connected with a private alarm system running to the fire station. This was set in operation by the abnormal water pressure overbalancing the weight which holds down the valve. No damage was done.

The department was called out a little before noon today to extinguish a fire at the Carroll lunch room on Franklin street, nearly opposite the postoffice. A gasoline stove had overflowed and the oil caught fire. No damage was done.

The aerial truck was taken out this afternoon so that a plumber could mend an eave gutter on the alley side of the Hayes block. The truck furnished the only means of gaining access to it. Escaping water from the trough has been running into the basements of adjoining buildings and causing complaint.

THE INSTRUCTIVE MR. "SLATS" TYNN-WILLY GETS A BIT OF A JOLT.

SPORT SNAP SHOTS

by DAN MCCARTHY

Most managers of ball clubs try their best to steer clear of players with a reputation for eccentricity. There is one exception. He is Joe Cantillon, manager of Minneapolis A. A. outfit.

Probably nowhere else in the country has any leader gathered about him such a collection of individuals who, in the polite parlance of the national game, are referred to as "bugs." Babe Waddell, Dave Altizer and Hobe Ferris are three of them. They're peculiar, to say the least. And then there's Claude Rossman, who used to be star for the Tigers.

Somewhat, too, Cantillon and his "bugs" seem to do fairly well in the way of winning games.

Jeff Overall, the big pitcher who quit the Cubs, is now selling beer for a Los Angeles brewery. Jeff may not be a howling success as a salesman, but he probably will pitch for the brewery team, which ought to hold him in his job.

H. Hager, former champion swimmer of Austria, has just returned to New York from Europe with the opinion the Germans are likely to be the American team's greatest rivals for aquatic honors at the Olympic games. He says Germany has promising entries in every event except the 1,500 metres race. America has no middle distance swimmer who can hope to win. Australia will compete only in the free style events, and England lacks sprinters and fancy divers, so all in all, he thinks the Germans have the best chance.

Jack O'Connor is having a very dicey time trying to shake off the jinx that sticks so persistently on his trail.

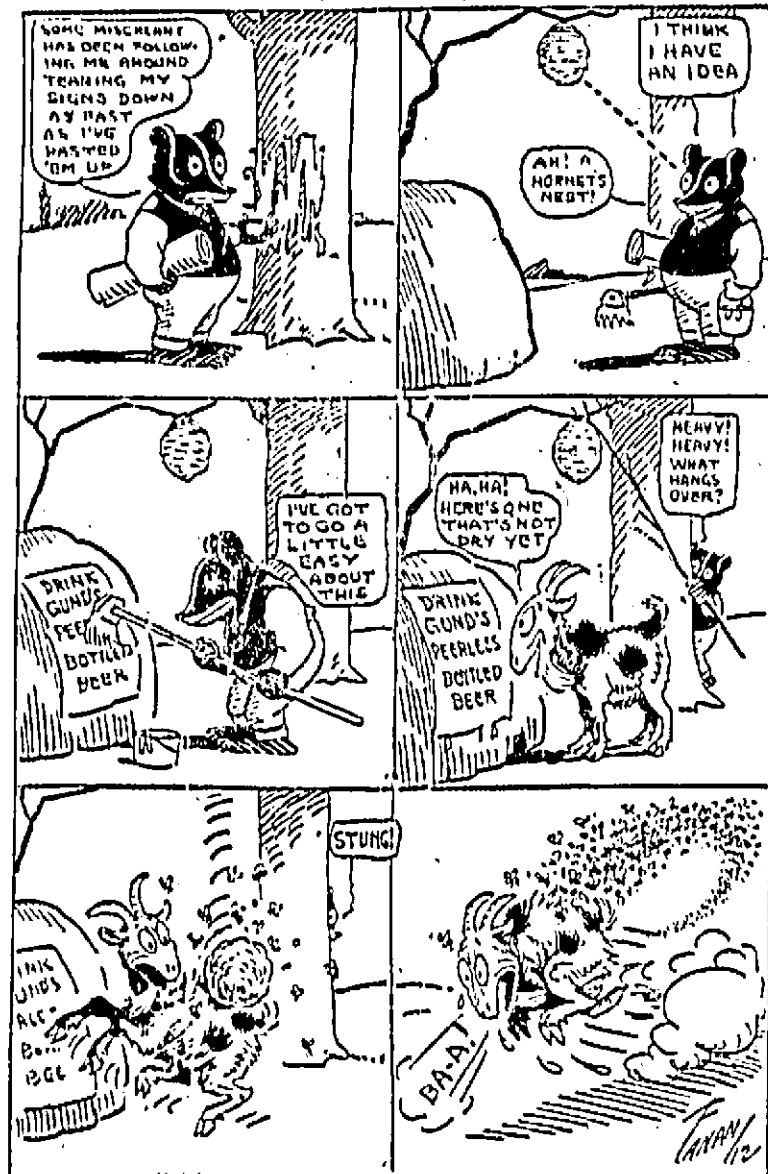

The jinx bothered him a lot when he was at St. Louis, but it's even busier now that Jack has landed the managerial job with the Cleveland team of the United States league.

It's beginning to look as though Condie Mack isn't going to be able to make much use this season of Harry Krause, the left-hander who made such a sensational start the year before last when he won the twelve out of the first thirteen games he pitched. Since then Krause has been of little value. He has been taken out of most of the games in which he started.

Jack Coombs' injury makes Mack's chance of repeating this year appear a bit dubious. It's a long time until the close of the season, of course, but you can't get away from the fact that it has been the Athletics' pitchers that have kept them in the race, and if the pitchers blow, neither Condie's star field nor any other section of his wonderful baseball machine can save him.

ATTACKS NARROW ATTITUDE IN REGARD TO ATHLETICS

Wisconsin Athletic Bulletin Takes Decided Stand Concerning Richards' Resignation.

(Special to this Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., May 13.—"What does a Greek or Latin professor know about athletics? He knows his line, Mr. Richards knows his, and when he says that he must have freshmen material to work with, he knows what he is talking about. Wisconsin must learn to respect the judgment of athletic officials or abolish intercollegiate athletics entirely."

Bodily facing a charge of less majesty, the editor of the Wisconsin Athletic Bulletin, published by the athletic department of the University of Wisconsin, expressing the above sentiments in the leading editorial of the resignation of Coach John H. Richards. The Bulletin agrees with Richards' own contention that as coach his field of usefulness is too limited and declares that a man of Richards' stamp must be given full sway in matters of athletics if Wisconsin is to have strong and efficient intercollegiate teams.

Admitting that the military department is able to flout a trump card, the Bulletin asks whether it is fair "for one department to interfere with the efficiency of another, particularly when athletics is something all the students want and everybody enjoys most?"

AN UNWARRANTED ATTACK.

Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, of pure food fame, recently gave an exhibition of himself before the Congressional investigating committee, which will result in injury to himself, as well as to the cause which he represents.

There is now pending before the House of Representatives, two bills proposed by the American Medical Association. One of them, the Richardson bill, seeks to amend the pure food act. The other, known as the Owen bill, provides for the establishment of a government department of health, which would naturally be under the dictation of medical men.

Mr. Wiley appeared before the committee as a supporter of these two measures, and went out of his way to attack the Homeopaths, the Osteopaths, and Christian Science healers. In speaking of the Homeopaths he said:

"I do not believe in their theory, and they do not practice their theory either; not one of them. . . . If you were bitten by a mad dog would you go and get a homeopathic flea to bite you over again to cure you? . . . If they stuck to their theory they would soon go out of business, but they do not, and yet they make people believe when they come into the homeopathic profession they must adopt this creed."

In speaking of osteopathy he admitted that he had no knowledge of the science, yet did not hesitate to denounce it in most vigorous terms. For example, he said:

"I do not know anything about osteopathy—have not any knowledge about it. I do not believe it is a science; I do not believe it has any scientific basis; I believe it is a pure fraud. That a vertebra is displaced is absurd; you would not have to go to a physician to find that out. . . . It is the brain of the prescribing physician that is out of adjustment and not the vertebra of the patient." Is it reasonable to suppose that man without any facilities, without any culture, without any learning in the matter are finding these great cures? Why it is utterly preposterous to think that any such thing can be absolutely preposterous!"

In dealing with the Christian Scientists, Dr. Wiley gave a quotation and then sarcastically commented thereon as follows: "Strange to say that the founder of this great doctrine which prevails should ever have died. How is it possible that the members of that profession ever die when they had absolute safety, and where there is no such thing as disease, no such thing as tuberculosis, no such thing as a broken bone, but only in the mind—the mind rules everything?"

Of course Dr. Wiley was called to time by able representatives of the three schools attacked, and the end is not yet, for a great army of intelligent people are interested, and the American Medical Association will gain nothing by antagonizing them. Homeopathy is practiced in every state and Christian Science has its disciples in all parts of the country, while Osteopathy, with more than six thousand practitioners, is recognized in forty-one states as a science worthy of protection.

President Taft made no mistake in getting rid of the erratic Dr. Wiley, however much good he may have accomplished.

THE INCOME TAX.

Gov. Governor Heard thus sizes up the income tax, in the last issue of the Jefferson County Union:

"There was no reason on earth for this income tax except that flows La Follette ordered it. McGovern is spending nearly 400 per cent more to govern the state than Scofield did in 1899 and 1900. Is anybody the better for all this wasteful expenditure of money wrung from the people's pockets? Nobody is benefited by a big wage of office-holders. It is time that these adventurers were told in plain terms just what they deserve to be told."

"We will never get rid of this income tax by the state until the tax-payers rise up and vote it out. It is going from bad to worse. Think of saddling the tax-payers of Jefferson county with a state tax of over $80,000, when a few years ago, under Davidson, we had no state tax. Now comes double taxation and a heap of trouble and expense in this income tax. They tell us that it does away with the personal property tax. If that is so, why did they not repeal the personal property tax law? Why keep it on the statute book? The thing is a snare and a trick, another of Hob La Follette's experiments in government, for which we must pay."

Present appearances indicate that the income tax is the final straw necessary to "break the camel's back." The people of Wisconsin, in their blind idolatry, had come to believe that the King could do no wrong. They submitted without question to every vagary advanced, under the high-sounding title of reform, and believed that they were governing themselves in this era of much-maligned representative government.

It was an era of irresponsibility, when one man selected the lawmakers and the men to execute them. He possessed the power and the authority and his servants bowed to the mandate of his bidding. The people have been humiliated by over-confidence. They have at last been slightly aroused from their slumber. If they will wake up and stay awake thereafter, hope that some of the evils may be remedied.

The state cannot afford to antagonize capital or drive out its manufacturing industries. These are more important to public and private welfare than gratifying the whims and caprices of an erratic leader, however much he may be worshipped.

The "Old Guard" may be knocked down, blind and deaf, but mental vision is not impaired, and its members still constitute a nucleus for conservation and common sense.

The story of the Boy Scout movement by Mr. McGee, in Saturday night's Gazette, should produce good results because it covered the situation so completely. The discipline alone is worth every dollar that the organization costs because it places the boys on their honor, and there is nothing like that sort of training to develop character. The "dons" which confront the boy in the home, are absent from his scout associations, and ambition is encouraged to be doing something for somebody all the time. When a boy is enlisted in this kind of work, he is on the right track, and bound to make good.

The last issue of Bryan's Commonwealth is filled with dire forebodings over the democratic outlook at Baltimore next month. The Nebraska statesman now fears that Harmon and Underwood may join forces, and the latter secure the nomination. In attempting to head off the movement he suggests that Senator Culbertson of Texas is a good man for the contest states to tie to, while the middle west could not do better than to support Kern of Indiana. Bryan is a good grandstand player, and will bear watching.

The Methodist general conference, now in session at Minneapolis, passed resolutions censuring President Taft for retaining Secretary Wilson in his cabinet. Wilson's offense was, presiding at a National Brewers' convention in Chicago. The Methodist people objected, and held the President responsible. Between the question of amusements, and attempting to regulate everything in sight, the conference is having a busy session.

The "Gleasons," who took possession of the city yesterday, are doing much to elevate the standard of morality of the men on the road. Many of these men are necessarily ostracized from home and society, a good share of the time, and the abnormal life they are compelled to lead is more or less demoralizing. The Gleasons appreciate the situation and their work is most commendable.

Believing that there is a great field for an organization of its kind in our midst, we are instituting an Excuse Club. The excuse club will fill a long felt want, we are very sure. The old excuses have been worn away beyond recognition. The lodge excuse has whiskers on it three feet long and must now be laid on the shelf.

The "ant up with a sick friend" excuse, the "fire down town" excuse, the "street car delayed" excuse and "out to lunch with a business friend" excuse are passe and the woman who would believe any of them doesn't live in this city.

Some of the excuses already submitted by charter members are quoted here to give prospective members a clear idea of the value of this great work:

The Letter That Got The Award.

Several weeks ago The Big Store ran a contest in the newspapers offering $5,000 reward for the best letter setting forth reasons why you should patronize your home merchants whenever possible. The following letter was selected as the best:

Janesville, Wis., April 25, 1912.

Messrs. J. M. Bostwick & Sons,

Dear Sirs:

I give below my reasons for citizens patronizing their home merchants:

Every dollar spent at home builds up the city to that amount.

Encourages the merchant to keep larger and better stocks.

Brings new business men to the city.

Raises the value of property.

Keeps the money in circulation at home.

Establishes confidence between buyer and seller.

Enables merchants to aid more worthy enterprises.

Gives the buyer a clear conscience.

Makes the merchant happier.

The buyer gets just as good merchandise for the same or less money than sending out of town.

And because we should "do as we would be done by" if we were the merchant.

GIDEON'S CONVENTION CLOSED LAST NIGHT

SERIES OF MEETINGS CLOSED WITH RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

UNION SERVICES HELD

Program at the Congregational Church Last Evening Was in Charge of Officers of the Order.

After a most successful and enjoyable series of meetings held in this city, the eleventh annual state convention of the Wisconsin Gideons was brought to a close last evening, with religious services at the Congregational church. Union services were held at the church and the program was given over to the Gideons, and was conducted by their officers.

A. H. Van Tassel, of Beloit, president of the order, took charge of last evening's services, as moderator. A ten-minute song service was led by D. A. Lewis of Baraboo, and the Scripture lesson was read by A. H. Hains of Madison, state chaplain. L. C. Smith of Waukesha, national chaplain of the order, preached the convention sermon, and the Gideon circle was formed as the hymn, "Hail to the God that Brought," was sung. The closing prayer was said by State Chaplain A. H. Hains.

In place of the regular men's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building, a mass meeting was held at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, at which the Gideons, whose convention in this city closed yesterday, were in charge.

A. H. Van Tassel of Beloit, State President of Gideons.

The meeting was in charge of R. E. Thomas of Madison, and was opened with a song service, led by E. C. Umbrell of Oakbrook. The Scripture lesson was read by W. W. Dale. Sacred music was sung by the Lotus male quartet, composed of the Messrs. J. S. Taylor, Frank Duane, E. E. Van Pool and Arthur Schoof, and a prayer was offered by the Rev. L. G. Catchpole. After another song by the quartette, G. A. Briggs of Baraboo gave the address of the afternoon meeting. Mr. Briggs' talk was on the great love of God for man and his text: "Unto Him That Hath Loved Us, and Washed us From Our Sin in His Own Blood," taken from the third verse of the first chapter of Revelations. An illustration of the power of love, Mr. Briggs spoke of human love. "I think," said he, "the next thing to God's love in the world, is mother love, and not saying anything against father love, but the love of the father for his children does not compare with the love of the mother. God's love, the speaker stated, is even greater than that beyond his ability to describe it. The speaker gave numerous illustrations to bring out the points of his remarks. Continuing with his address, the speaker stated that this was the greatest age for the dispensation of the Holy Spirit and that the message of Jesus today is in interceding for the redemption of the world. The soul of the poorest sinner, he said, is just as precious in Jesus' sight as that of any Christian, so great is His love. For those that have sinned, repentance and the forgiveness of God are the only things that can bring about a reconciliation between the sinner and the Lord. Mr. Briggs spoke very ably, and his remarks aroused considerable religious fervor. At the close of his address he called for testimony, and members of the Gideon order, and others present at the meeting, arose and testified as to their Christian experience. The meeting closed with a hymn and a revival of Christian feeling.

Sunday Morning Meetings.
A Sunday morning meeting of the Gideons for religious exercises was held at the Methodist church at nine o'clock. S. E. Hill of Beloit, led the song service, and A. H. Hains of Madison, was in charge of the hour of praise and testimony. Afterwards the Gideons attended the various morning services at the churches, and members of the order spoke at the services in the churches.

Officers Re-elected.
At the meeting of the Gideons at the Baptist church Saturday afternoon the old officers of the order were re-elected: A. H. Van Tassel, Beloit, president; R. E. Thomas, Madison, vice-president; and F. C. Hendricks, Fond du Lac, secretary and treasurer. R. E. Adams of Madison was re-elected as superintendent of the Bible fund. It was decided to carry on the work of placing of bibles in the hotels throughout the state with more vigor than ever.

At half past five o'clock Saturday evening a reception and banquet for the Gideons was held at the Methodist church. A short program of guests was given afterwards. L. C. Smith of Waukesha presiding as toastmaster. Toasts were given by P. K. Schaefer, Milwaukee; E. W. Sellers, Stevens Point; C. C. Campbell, Monroe; and C. R. Fox, Mineral Point. Commencing at half past seven o'clock, a Gideon camp fire meeting was held with W. I. Rothmeyer of this city as moderator. A. H. Van Tassel of Beloit, president of the order, led in the song service with which the meeting was opened, and L. K. Crissey of this city read a selection from the Scriptures. J. M. Crittton of Madison, offered a prayer. The Rev. Dr. J. W. Laughlin of this city, gave the address of welcome to the visitors, extending a most hearty welcome to the Gideons. He praised the work of the order in their efforts to extend the spirit of Christ, and said that the example afforded by men who were successful in business affairs, and yet held to the higher ideals of life, was most inspiring.

The response for the Gideons was made by A. E. Melenz of Milwaukee, national vice-president, who expressed the appreciation of the order for the reception given them. He spoke of the work of the Gideons throughout the country and referred to the benefits derived from placing the bibles in the hotels, many testimonials having been given that men had been kept from yielding to temptation because of their influence. He urged an increased vigor in bringing traveling salesmen into this Christian brotherhood in carrying on the work of placing the bibles in hotels.

After a song, the rest of the evening's program was given over to two-minute campfire talks, various members relating their experiences. Short talks were made by W. I. Rothmeyer, Janesville; A. J. Schneider, Milwaukee; H. S. Ball, Appleton; G. A. Briggs, Baraboo; S. E. Hill, Beloit; and P. G. Hendricks, Fond du Lac. Testaments from members who were unable to attend were read at the meeting.

Bibles Distributed.
"The one hundred and fifty bibles secured for use in the hotels of the city were placed today in the rooms at the Myers, Grand and Park hotels. Seventy-five were placed in rooms at the Myers hotel, sixty in the Grand and fifteen in the Park hotel. The distribution was made by a committee comprising A. E. Melenz, Milwaukee, national president of the Gideons, George A. Jacobs, J. C. Kline and W. T. Mayhew.

VEGETABLE SHORTAGE CAUSED BY WEATHER

Disagreeable and Cold Weather Caused Shortage of Vegetables.

Continued cold weather makes the vegetable markets very slim yet and a few warm days will be needed to start the garden truck again in quantities sufficient for the demand. Young onions are about the only vegetable left which appear in any quantity and these have a good trade. Most of the oranges are now coming from California, a large shipment having been received by the local wholesalers today. The orange trade has not been very heavy for the past few weeks but the quality is still very good and an excellent line of fruit is offered by most of the dealers. Cold weather has not seemed to hinder the egg market in any way and the supply is practically as large as ever, with the same prices, 18c@20c a dozen.

Today's markets are very quiet on Practical Query.

My little boy stood open-mouthed, while a friend elaborated the details of a sudden death. The patient had not been considered very seriously ill, and his nurse entered, bringing a baked potato for which the sick man had expressed a wish. "But," said my friend, "before he had tasted it, he died." "I deplored the sadness of such recital before the child, but I need not have feared. His baby voice piped out: 'And what became of the potato?'"—Harper's Weekly.

Surprised Bridget.

Aristocratic Lady: "I'd like to know, Bridget, what has become of all the roast beef and cake that was left over from yesterday?" Bridget: "Sure, mum, didn't yet never have a perlaeman 'callin' on yez when you wore my apron?"

Obedience Not Always Good.

Obedience is good and indispensable; but if it be obedience to what is wrong and false—good heavens, there is no name for such a depth of human cowardice and calamity; spurred everlastingly by the gods.—Thomas Carlyle.

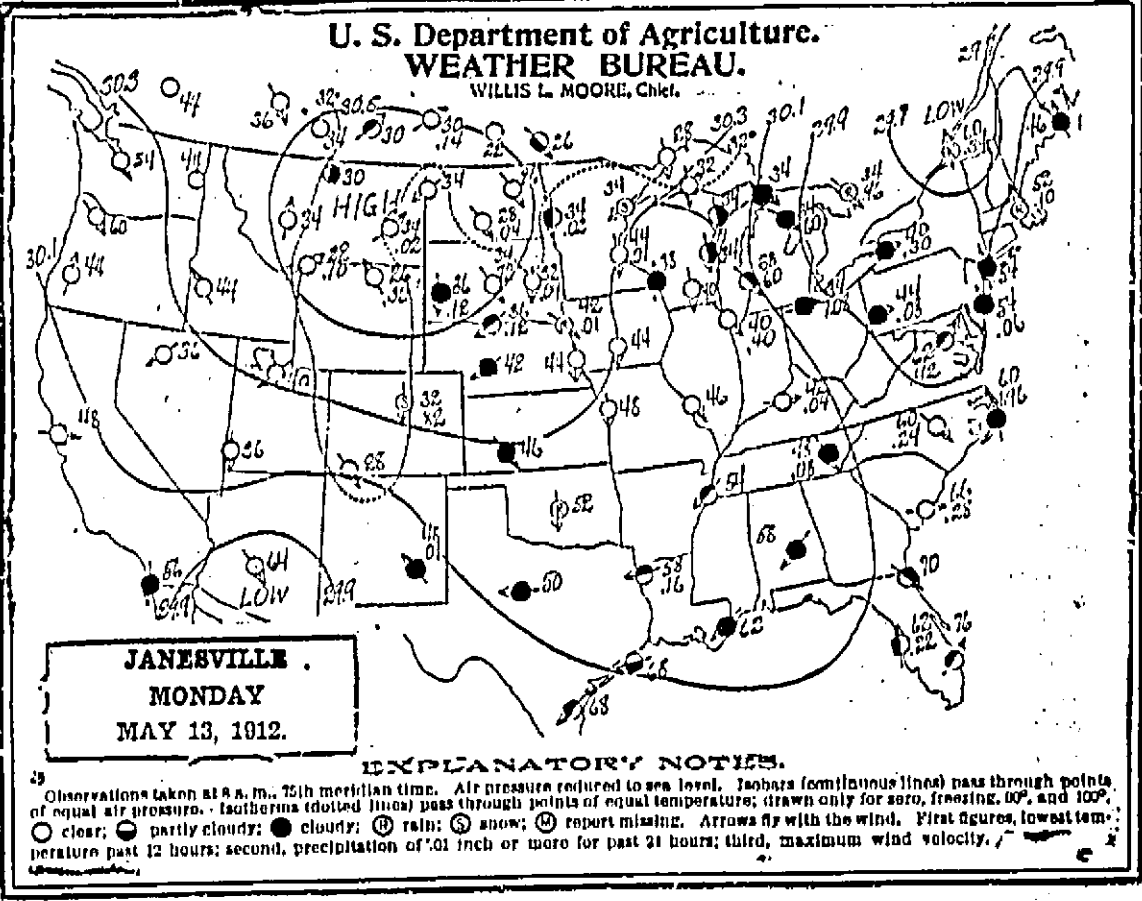

Occasional Exceptions.

Providence is not always on the side of the biggest battalions, and the last word has not necessarily been spoken when the biggest crowd has done its shouting.—Exchange.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Growing Beauty of the Home

It has been said, and is being said yet, that America is short on art. It is quite true. We had to clear forests and plant cornfields and reap wheatfields and build cities before we could sit down and paint pictures or weave tapestries or carve sculpture. We could scarcely take time to make the home beautiful. In fact, with many, home was simply the place to rest and recuperate for the work in hand. Our minds while in the house were not thinking how pretty and restful were the furnishings; but were planning coming tasks, wondering how to make a few more dollars, or meet the bills that were falling due.

But a change is coming, is already here, in this respect. We have made the dollars, many of us; or we are beginning to see that we do not need so many as we thought. We are getting a new conception of the home. We are finding out that artistic, harmonious furnishings rest us quite as much as a comfortable chair or an easy bed; in fact, more. For they lay a finger of peace, of tranquillity, upon the spirit. For if the mind is not soothed, we will lose restlessness upon the sofa. We have come to perceive that the home that is beautiful and satisfying is worth just as much as money in the bank. And the art of home-building in its most comprehensive sense is going forward by leaps and bounds.

Indicative of this is a pilgrimage abroad this spring of those interested in making the home beautiful. The party, under a well-known director of art, will make a tour of the art centres abroad, for the special purpose of studying art decoration, or perhaps more truly art development, of the home. They will study household furnishings, art, architecture, sculpture, carving,—anything that will serve to make the home more beautiful. And they will study these in famous homes, in castles, in palaces, in art galleries, among the Roman and Greek antiquities,—wherever they can find beauty, which to their trained, keen eye can be adapted to household use.

Then with all the data they can collect, they will return and go to the task of adapting it to American needs. And their efforts are not directed toward making the homes of the rich more beautiful. But it is hoped that every little home in America will feel the influence of this movement. Furniture will take on better lines, more simple ornament, because of it. Colorings for home furnishings will become softer, more harmonious. The ornaments of the home will be more artistic. Into all home furnishings, it is hoped, that this influence will penetrate. It may take some time, but gradually it will make itself felt.

In the little party are teachers of manual arts in the public schools, art students, interior decorators, furniture makers, designers of all kinds, so that what they absorb will spread in many directions.

It is a scheme big with promise for the future beauty of the American home. When we once do become interested in art, when we make everything about us artistic, there will be art given to the world second to none. For when the American gets in earnest, he accomplishes things.

And art in the home is far more important to our well-being than art in art galleries. To have beauty about us where the eye can fall upon it every day, in fact every minute, of home life, is to do a tremendous thing for the American people. Even to arouse us to the value of having the home beautiful is much. For, once women are awakened to it, they will study the matter for themselves far more thoroughly than they are doing at present. They will put into the home the simple, neutral-colored floor-coverings and wall-papers and portieres that are the best backgrounds for the other furnishings. They will do away with much of the show and glitter and over-furnishing of today, and choose fewer and more truly beautiful articles, articles that will always delight and never grow tiresome. For truly has it been said, that a thing of beauty is a joy forever.

Barbara Boyd.

her depends on the seasoning used. The successful cook is always a skillful factor and understands how to balance the seasoning so that there is an agreeable mingling of all the flavors but with no one discernible to the taste. Salt will not be needed with the corned beef but a little celery salt imparts a pleasing flavor to the mixture, and plenty of parsley and pepper are needed.

Just here a few words in regard to spices will not come amiss. Both black and white pepper come from the same plant but one process of treatment evolves black pepper and another white. Authorities say that the black is largely composed of husks and that in why it is a trifle lower in price; certainly the white pepper is superior in aroma and flavor and it is preferred by people who have given the flavoring question much consideration.

DINNER STORIES

A certain great Chicago physician and Mr. A. S. Trade, a lawyer of that city, are close friends, but one time when the physician was called as an expert witness in a case Trade was on the opposite side and had to cross-examine.

The physician had given his expert testimony. It upheld the contention of his side perfectly.

When it came to Trade's turn he glared at his friend, and after the usual preliminary questions began the examination.

"Doctor, you are frequently called into consultation when prominent men are ill in this community are you not?"

"I am."

"Were you in attendance on George M. Pullman?"

"I was."

"Where is Mr. Pullman now?"

"He is dead."

"Ah, yes. And were you called in by Mr. Marshall Field?"

"I was."

"Where is Mr. Field now, may I ask?"

"He is dead."

"Indeed? And were you in attendance on Philip D. Armour?"

"I was."

"And where is Mr. Armour now?"

"He is dead."

Trade knew that his friend was called in consultation in almost every big case in Chicago, and there was a malleable gleam in his eye as he asked if the expert had attended them. After he had named about a dozen prominent citizens who had passed away he turned to the jury with a wave of his hand, as if to say: "There's your expert!" and sat down.

A Chinaman has been thus sworn in! On entering the box the witness immediately knelt down, and a child saucer having been placed in his hand, he broke it. The officer of the court through an interpreter, then addressed him thus:

"You shall tell the truth and the whole truth, and if you do not tell the truth your soul will be cracked like the saucer."

A Mohammedan witness first placed his right hand on the Koran, and the other hand to his forehead, and brought the top of his forehead down to the book and touched it with his head. He then looked for some time upon it, and being asked what effect that ceremony was to produce answered that he was bound by it to speak the truth. The deposition of Gentoo has been received who touched with his hand the foot of the Brahmin. Buddhists have been sworn by "the three holy existences—Buddhi, Dharma and Pro Sangha—and the deities of the twenty-two fragments," and a Parsee on the Zand Avesta, or by binding a "holy cord" round his body.

"Will you allow me to ask you a question?" interrupted a man in the audience.

"Certainly, sir," said the lecturer. "You have given us a lot of figures about immigration, increase of wealth, the growth of trusts, and all that," said the man. "Let's see what you know about figures yourself. How do you find the greatest sum—man divides?"

Slowly and deliberately the orator took a glass of water.

Then he pointed his finger straight at the questioner. Lightning flashed from his eyes, and he replied in a voice that made the gas jets quiver: "Advertiser for it, you ignoramus."

The audience cheered and yelled and stamped, and the wretched man who had asked the question crawled out of the hall a total wreck.

Heart and Home Problems

by MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: A young man who has been talking me around a great deal lately asked me a few days ago if he might call on me Sunday evening. I told him no, that I had some letters to write, and would rather have him come some other time. Just as it happened, a young man friend from another city came unexpectedly on Sunday, and the first young man saw us together. He thought I had told him an untruth, and is very angry, not giving me a chance to explain. Should I do anything to set matters right? I do not care to lose his friendship.

MILWAUKEE.

As soon as the wound to the first young man's pride has had time to heal, he will give you a chance to set him right. Possibly he will learn the true state of affairs from one of your girl friends. He really has no grounds for grievance, as he will admit presently.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will you tell me a good way for a girl of eleven to comb her hair? (2) What is a good remedy for redness of the face? (3) What can I do for tanned face and hands?

R. S. R.

(1)—Part the hair in the middle, roll on either side, braid in a single braid, and tie with a wide ribbon even with the shoulders. (2)—For red skin, have prepared the following mixture, borax, 5 drachms; camphor, 20 grains; distilled water 8 ounces. Use one or two teaspoons of this in water when washing face at night. (3)—For tanned face and hands, rub a little of the following mixture on the skin at night: two or three drops of ammonia, two or three drops of water and one ounce of diluted peroxide of hydrogen.

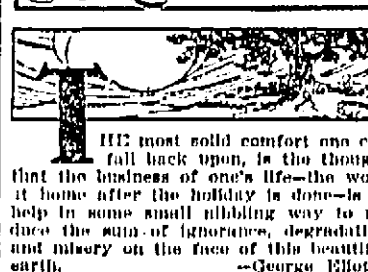

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—Will you please tell me if there are any Roman actresses on the stage? Do any Roman people appear in productions of the "Bohemian Girl"? Where do such people stay in summer? (2)—What is good for a red nose? (3)—What can I do to reduce my weight? (4)—I am 120 pounds too much for a girl of 14 or 15 to weigh?

INTERESTED.

(1)—I have never heard of Roman or gladiator people appearing as actresses, and do not believe that you have seen any such in the "Bohemian Girl." The gladiator parts are taken by ordinary actors and actresses, who make up skillfully so that they look like real gladiators. During the summer wandering bands of gladiators travel about the country by wagon, camping beside streams and in groves. (2)—A red nose is due to improper diet, and may be cured by taking care to eat in moderation only such foods as are wholesome. (3)—To reduce the weight, exercise a great deal, and eat less. (4)—The weight you mention is a bit large for a girl of fourteen or fifteen, but of course, much depends upon height and general development. Sometimes a girl of fifteen is nearly as fully developed as a woman.

Dear Mrs. Thompson. (1)—How

The KITCHEN CABINET

HOUSEKEEPING NECESSITIES.

To many some of these may come under the head of luxuries; but most of us are able to do without the necessities if we can have the luxuries.

Seasonings, spices and herbs of all kinds, including cayenne pepper and paprika.

Catkins and plump sauces.

Small cans of vegetables, meats, soups and fish.

Extracts of beef and bouillon cubes. Canned sweet peppers.

Salt dressings.

Jar of grated cheese.

Crackers and cans of condensed milk.

For utensils, a double boiler or two, several wooden spoons.

Wire whisk and Dover egg beater.

Praying basket and individual baking dishes.

Coffee percolator.

Zine covered table.

Meat chopper.

Bread mixer.

These are a few of the indispensable in a well-ordered household.

Hot Chicken Salad.—Mix a pint of cooked chicken cut in cubes with a cup of cooked peas, half a teaspoonful of salt, a little red pepper, a teaspoonful of onion juice, a sweet red pepper cut fine, a teaspoonful of lemon juice and set aside to season. Make a sauce of a fourth of a cup of butter, the same amount of flour, seasonings, a cup of cream, a cup of chicken broth; add the other ingredients and let stand over water to become hot.

This is good served from a chafing dish.

A pretty luncheon biscuit is made by putting three small biscuits in each of a set of patty pans. They will look like a clover leaf when baked and are called clover biscuits.

NEURASTHENIA.

Bernheim, a standard authority, says that neurasthenia is an auto-intoxication, constitutional, and that it may develop serious form after grippe or cold or lowered vitality from any cause. Whether self-poisoning from the waste of food absorbed from the lower alimentary canal is the essential cause of this malady or not, it has been found to be relieved by a simple diet, copious drinking of water containing little mineral matter, and systematic exercise. A man who five months ago was unable to walk a mile without distressing exhaustion and who was subject to serious fits of despondency, can now walk 25 miles a day, feels optimistic constantly and is entirely free from nervous symptoms. He has been benefited most by a continuous diet of whole corn meal mush and milk. Meat was eliminated gradually and the diet simplified cautiously, with occasional fasts of two or three days.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

TWO WAYS OF USING MONEY.

TWO young women in my acquaintance are earning about the same salaries, but they use their money in different ways.

One of them spends as little as possible on her daily needs. She walks to save car-fares; she eats at cheap places; she denies herself any amusement which costs anything; she thinks twice before she spends a quarter; she is always saying she cannot afford this or that little thing, and she religiously jots down every penny in her account book. With the money that she thus accumulates, she buys very expensive big things—a handsome set of furs, a costly vacation trip, a mahogany dresser for her room, etc. People are always saying: "What a lot of money she has!"

The other girl always has plenty of money for little things. She goes to the theatre or to some lecture almost every week; she gratifies her love for pleasant surroundings by eating in one of the most attractive restaurants in town, despite her friend's horrified protest that everything costs five or ten cents more there. She never thinks about car-fare or any of the little expenses, and she despises account books. Consequently, she never has big things like her friend. She has only enough to help her family, save a reasonable amount and buy fairly presentable clothes. The people who praise her friend are always saying: "Isn't it strange that Lucy doesn't have more to show for her money with the good salary she has?"

Now this point of view is so familiar as to be a truism, but there are times when I quarrel with it. May I recall to your mind a sentence which I think I have quoted before? "The right use of money is to accomplish what you wish with it."

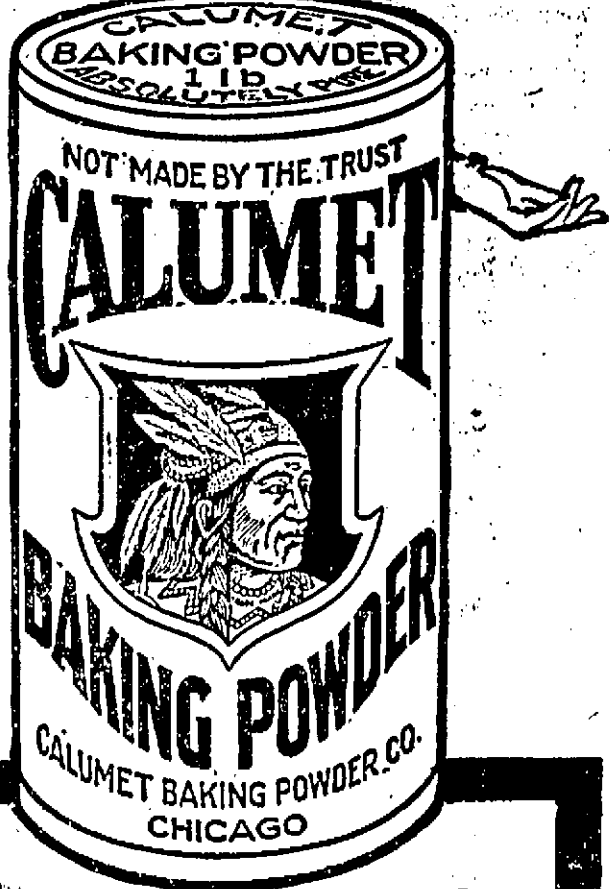

Presumably both these girls want the largest amount of happiness possible for their money. The question is: which gets it? The first girl is always tied down to thoughts of money. Spending a quarter bothers her. She scrimps herself and denies herself to save a dime. She gets big things for her money and is proud of it and boasts of it, but it is worth while? If some of the money which she put into that mahogany dresser—she acquired for it six months—had been distributed over that six months as all to make the machinery of her daily living run more smoothly, wouldn't she have been happier on the whole?

The second girl never thinks of money. She allows herself plenty to oil the machinery of daily life and she gets as much as she can out of the rest, and is content. To be sure, she has an oak bureau in her room instead of a mahogany dresser, but I wonder if her peace of mind and her freedom from money worry do not make the balance pretty nearly even.

Now please do not think I am advising you to spend all your money on little things. I'm not advising any extreme. I'm just trying to get the opposite point of view from the conventional one.

It is good to get the full value of your hard earned money, but in trying to do that, do not forget that peace of mind and freedom from money worry are some of the precious things of life, as well as costly furs and mahogany dressers.

Remember that there is such a thing as thinking too constantly of saving money and consequently chaining yourself down to continuous thoughts of money. To my mind, nothing but duty or necessity can make that worth while.

GARDEN ASSOCIATION FORMED AT MADISON

Will Promote Use of Vacant Lots in City for Growing Flowers and Vegetables—Lots Offered.

With the purpose of promoting the use of vacant city lots for school and home gardens for the growing of flowers and vegetables a city garden association has been formed at Madison. The movement has the support and cooperation of the Madison Horticultural society, Draper Neighborhood Club, Educational Department of the Woman's Club, Boy Scouts, School Garden Supporters, and the University Children's Garden Association of the College of Agriculture. A number of lots have already been offered for cultivation.

President C. E. Warner of the Park and Pleasure Association has promised teams and plows to put the ground in shape for planting. Part of the seed will be furnished. The association makes one condition, that three feet, one the street side of all vegetable gardens be planted with flowers.

People have already applied for garden plots. The Boy Scouts made application for fourteen boys, furnishing their own supervision. It is hoped in time that this branch of industrial training will be combined with playground activities.

RACINE MAY ESTABLISH A FORESTRY BUREAU.

The question of establishing a forestry bureau of the park board was discussed at a recent meeting of the board and as soon as the proper arrangements can be made this feature of the board's work will be arranged for.

The bureau will assume charge of all tree and shrubbery matters outside of the lot line, dictating where and how and in what number trees shall be planted. Further than that, the bureau will volunteer to act in an advisory capacity with regard to the subject matter on private premises. In the latter case it will be up to the property owners to accept or reject the advice of the bureau, but in the parkways outside of the lot lines, the park board has the power to dictate.

There is no thought, however, that there will arise any occasion for litigation. People who like and believe in trees usually will agree with the general regulations of the park commission, acting upon the advice of the forestry bureau. The idea is to have some system and it is expected that the individual will yield on matters of judgment with regard to general regulation.

Park Fireplaces for Picnickers.
In order to prevent brush and fire, which are prevalent in California during hot weather, very strict regulations are enforced in the Los Angeles parks against building camp fires. But in order that picnickers in the larger parks may have hot coffee or warm food with their lunch, the park commissioners have provided fireplaces, solidly built of rough stones or cobbles and cement. These are provided with a metal grill, on which coffee pots or any other utensils may be set, or stoves can be broiled. The stoves are large enough to provide cooking space for a number at a time, and a six-foot chimney carries the smoke away from their faces. The stoves serve another purpose in providing a ready method for clearing the parks of accumulated rubbish. Much of it is used by picnickers for their fires, and the park caretakers readily dispose of the fallen twigs and leaves and the Sunday's accumulation of newspapers by burning them, thus saving the expense of hauling them away.

Bituminous Concrete Replaces Asphalt.

In 1911 the city of San Antonio, Tex., found it necessary to resurface some asphalt paving laid about ten years previous, which had worn out, and instead of replacing it with asphalt it removed all of the old asphalt surface and re-covered the concrete foundation with bituminous concrete composed of broken stone, sand and bitumen, prepared at the city asphalt plant. This reconstruction was used over an area of 39,675 square yards.

Municipal Plant Shows Profit.
Jamestown, N. Y.—Jamestown's municipal lighting plant has been a source of profit to the city during the past twelve months. The report of the city auditor for the year shows that the total operating expenses of the municipal plant, including salaries, materials, supplies, interest on bonds and a per cent for depreciation, was $27,370.78, and the total income from operation $52,755.38, leaving a net balance to the credit of $25,384.60.

Gardens for the Poor.
Spokane, Wash.—To enable the poor to add themselves in securing a food supply, the Spokane city council has made arrangements for the free plowing of back yards and vacant lots for those who wish to raise vegetables and grain. Several hundred vacant lots will be donated by real estate dealers for the gardens.

Will Use Oil.
The common council of Lake Mills has decided to purchase a car load of crude oil to be used on its streets this spring, believing it more satisfactory to use oil than to sprinkle.

Finest Bath in the World.
London probably possesses more private baths than any other city, but in the matter of public baths it cannot claim first or even second place. Tokio, Japan, has over 600 public baths where 300,000 persons bathe daily, at a cost of about two cents each. Constantinople probably ranks second; then comes St. Peter's.

burg, famous for the vast vapor baths to which the thousands flock in thousands every Saturday evening. The finest public bath in the world is at Vienna. It has a basin 573 feet long by 156 feet wide and can accommodate 1,500 persons. The water is changed three times daily.—Chicago News.

Trying New Arcs.
The Shohogyan Railway and Electric Co. is experimenting with some new extra-brilliant electric arcs that may be installed throughout the city. Samples have been set up at Erie and St. Clair avenues on North Eighth street.

Receives Combination Sprinkler.
The city of Appleton has purchased and received a combination oil and water sprinkler which is now in use. It has a capacity of 600 gallons of oil or water. Many new streets will be treated with oil this year.

SIDEWALK KETCHES.

MICROBES.

By Howard L. Hann.
THE microbes is a small, four-legged insect with a frank, open countenance and is never taken seriously until it is time to call in the corner's jury. Microbes are more to be feared than cabbage worms or the bloodthirsty potato bug, yet people receive them into their homes and carry them around in their clothes without looking into their rating or asking any questions about their family connections. Microbes may be taken internally or externally although as a rule they prefer to open a shaft in the human system from the outside. It has been discovered that when Clostridia decided to die in two ticks of a hand's fall she did not call in an assessor as reported by the Associated Press at the time, but that she picked out a red-blooded Brooklyn microbe which had not killed anybody for several days. The descendants of this microbe are still roaming around and peddling the vital statistics. The medical profession is authority for the statement that the most deadly forms of microbes are those which lurk in the chair ear drinking cup and the spring beer mug. The girl who does not care to be decorated with microbes to whom she has never been introduced should insist upon the short lip. There has never been an attempt to take a census of the microbes now plying nefarious trade, but it is estimated that the rim of a tin cup will furnish room for 12,000,000 adults, without crowding anybody off the edge. We have always suspected that the alleged locusts which went out to get Pharaoh and ate holes in his best suit were in reality the forefathers of the soil microbe. It is well known that the Kansas grasshopper, which could eat its way through a galvanized iron corn tub, was simply a late model of the microbe which destroyed the profile of the Sphinx. It is a bitter fact, that the only way to get rid of microbes is to pass one's days in after noon and a barbershop oil shower bath.

CONFIRMATION WORK OF THE HOLY GHOST

THE RIGHT REV. BISHOP WEBB EXPLAINS SIGNIFICANCE OF SACRAMENT.

CHRISTIAN WITNESSES

Religion Which Does Not Manifest Itself in Business and Everyday Life, Non-Existent.

Interpreting the sacrament of Confirmation as the special office of the Holy Ghost, under whose dispensation Christians have lived ever since Our Lord ascended to the Father, the Right Rev. Bishop William Walter Webb, D. D., of Milwaukee, who yesterday morning conferred the sacrament at Trinity Episcopal church, exhorted his members to be good Christians and witnesses to the service, not confining their works to the service and observances of the church, but manifesting their faith by their works in the duties of daily life.

The Bishop, who delivered his sermon after administering the sacrament of Confirmation, took as his text the eighth verse of the first chapter of Acts:

"But ye shall receive power, after the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost parts of the earth."

"These words," said the Bishop, in opening his discourse, "were the last uttered by Our Lord on earth, just before His ascension. We are accustomed to think of the last words of Christ as those which he uttered on the cross, spoken just before death. It was not thus with Him. He had risen from the dead. He met His disciples in the room where He had instituted the Holy Eucharist, went out with them toward the Mount of Olives, and before He was caught up into the heavens spoke unto them the promise which is contained in our text.

"Confirmation is the special work of the Holy Ghost. We think of the old or converts as the dispensation of God the Father, but He came in the world through Our Lord. He was His who spoke with Moses in the burning bush, who directed Noah to build the ark, and who appeared before the children of Israel in a fiery cloud. Yet the person of God the Father is very strong; His attributes appeal to us and are comprehensible and real. We think of Him as an old and venerable man and our artists have so represented Him.

"Even stronger and more distinct is the personality of Our Lord Jesus Christ, because He took upon Himself the form of a man, and lived His life with its trials and sorrows, passing through infancy and youth to manhood. He knew a child's dilemmas, and troubles as well as those of the elders. Children too often conceive of Him as a grown-up man and forget that He attended the synagogue schools, wandered in the fields and roadways, and worked in Joseph's carpenter shop. He had His lessons to learn, to obey His father and mother, and to do all things that are profitable for a child.

"Our ideas of the Holy Ghost are much more uncertain and indefinite than those of the other members of the Trinity. We say He lives and moves in our hearts, but we think of Him less as a person than as an influence and an unseen power that consoles and guides us. We very seldom pray to the Holy Ghost. Yet we must remember that our blessed Lord taught very definitely that the Holy Ghost was to take His place, to guide us in to all truth and to be with us unto the end of the world. We are now living under the dispensation of the Holy Ghost.

"Baptism must precede the receiving the Holy Ghost. It is the first step in Christianity, the initial sacrament. People dislike to be told that baptism is indispensable, especially when the marriage service of the church is denied to the unbaptized, or the burial service refused them. But their complaint is not just. Would one expect to receive a Masonic burial if he had not been initiated into the order? Baptism is an initiation, but it is much more than that, and one who has not taken the first and essential step in Christianity cannot expect to enter into all its privileges. Baptism is the birth of the water and the Spirit; he can not enter into the Kingdom of God.

"Baptism must always come first. So it was on the day of Pentecost. Peter said to the multitude, 'Repent and be baptized, every one of you in the name of the Holy Ghost.' This it was when Peter converted the jailer, when the church was received, and the Spirit manifested in Samaria.

"We are told that conversion is the necessary step in accepting Christianity. So it is. It is necessary all the time, whenever we turn away from God. It is not something which happens but once. Men do sometimes make decisions that lead to great changes in their lives but this is not the only kind of conversion. A week does not pass that most Christians do not fall and need to turn back to God. It is a matter of the will, not of the affection.

"Ordination is the work of the Holy Ghost. The words in the ordination service of the church are those used by Our Lord and confer the promise of the gift of the Holy Spirit. The Bible is its handbook and so is its right interpretation. The church existed before the Bible, Christianity had spread throughout most of the civilized world before the Bible, as we know it, was put together, and we have no authority for the Bible except the church which is its interpreter.

"On that boat was a millionaire whose character was blighted but manifested the best that was in him on that occasion, an artist whose name is honored throughout the country, a philanthropist beloved by his race. What did all their talents, and possessions at this time amount to except character and their relation to God?"

"The one thing which will be of use to him after death, and which will be of use to the community, is the character which he has manifested in his life. God calls upon us to do this, to carry our Christianity into school and shop, and store. Christianity must be manifested in business life and every day life or it is no Christianity."

Forten received the sacrament of Confirmation at Trinity church yesterday, the largest class ever confirmed by Bishop Webb in Janesville, who has made five or six visits here for that purpose since 1903. The members of the class were Luther, Robert and Pearl Mills, Victor, Hector, and Elizabeth Bleasdale, James G. Gregory, H. Mrs. Charles Henderson, Mary and Ray Henderson, William Allen, Helen Welch, Esther Harrington and Charles Main. Bishop Webb returned to Milwaukee this morning.

RETURNS BY LETTER ARE NOT ACCEPTED

State Tax Commission Service Notice
That Returns Under Income Tax
Law Must be by Sworn Statement.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
The state tax commission will not accept letters or postal card answers in lieu of the sworn statement which the income tax law requires. A large number of corporations have disregarded the latter requirement, and have sent curt replies to the tax commission explaining why they had not sent in their reports. In a letter sent by the commission today to these delinquent companies, it says:

"The fact that a corporation 'did no business,' or 'was dissolved,' or 'sold out,' or 'went into bankruptcy,' or 'did business at a loss in 1911,' or 'has made a report to the secretary of state,' or 'to the collector of internal revenue,' or 'has resolved no dividends,' or 'did not understand the law,' or any like reason does not excuse it from making sworn statements as to its income."

The commission requests these corporations to report without delay, or it will make an estimate and assess the income of the company "under the power conferred upon it by the law."

PRESS COMMENT.

On Oracle's Opinion.
Wisconsin State Journal: Cartoonist Minor pictures for the St. Louis Post Dispatch, Uncle Sam witnessing with obvious distress an inflamed quarrel between Roosevelt and Taft. Pointing to Roosevelt, he is made to shriek, "You are feeble"; Taft in reply, pointing his finger at Roosevelt, cries, "You are dangerous"; Uncle Sam, scratching his head, is made to say, "I guess you're both right."

This draftsman has summed up the whole story. Neither, if continued, can be elected. If the republican party carries either of their names on its banner as its party leader in this summer's campaign the party will go down to humiliating defeat. We do not believe the republican party at this time with its new, vicious and revolting life, so manifest in the legislative enactments of many of our states, and so triumphant in progressive victories in Washington, is ready at this time to yield to the dictates of Taft's stand-out army or to be led blindly into the forest without a compass by the consuming personal ambition of him who wishes above all else to demonstrate that he at least can return from Elbo.

No Relief in Sight.
Chicago News: Another great American industry and a national emotion are threatened. The extensive droughts in South America last year have had a disastrous effect upon the production of rubber, from which comes chewing gum. The bulk of the gum which enters this country is made from which unless there is much rain. And in addition the bulky forests cannot be reached when the rivers are low, as at present. A sad feature is the fact that apparently not even an international committee can eliminate the danger, as what is wanted is rain and not conflicting testimony.

His Experience.
Bolt News: Bryan's statement that he is willing to let Taft and Roosevelt fight out their differences, even if it should split the republican party, is rather clever. Perhaps Mr. Bryan has decided that the best way to defeat the republican party is to let it alone, other methods having proved unsuccessful.

No Change of Program.
Oshkosh Northwestern: Taft and Roosevelt are still engaged in their interesting duet entitled, "You're Another!"

To Preserve Old Photographs.
One way to preserve old photographs is as follows: Put the photographs into clean, hot water; very soon the pictures loosen and may be easily removed from the cards. When dry, either trim down to economize space, or carefully cut away the back-ground entirely. Mount them in a scrap book or a book made especially for kodak pictures. You will then have a book with which you can spend many happy moments looking over familiar scenes and faces.

Virtue in Compulsory Work.
Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day which must be done, whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed in you temperance and self-control, diligence and strength of will, cheerfulness and content, and a hundred virtues which the idle never knew.—Charles Kingsley.

HAD MIRACULOUS ESCAPE WHEN STRUCK BY ENGINE.

Stranger Walking Tracks at Milton
Saturday Night Struck by Train at Burdick's
Crossing.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milton, May 12.—Saturday evening a stranger got off train No. 7, to walk to Milton Junction. It was raining and having a gale and at Burdick's crossing he took the Mineral Point track instead of the main line and the engine on train seven ran him down, the pilot beam striking him in the back and throwing him to the side of the track. Dr. Crosby was called and gave him an examination, but found no bones broken or any serious injuries. Having friends at Milton Junction he insisted on walking to that place and did so. No doubt he found himself sore and lame the next morning, but he had a narrow escape from death or serious injury.

Returns From Visit.
Rev. Frank L. Hayden, Ph. D., D. D., of Seattle, Wash., visited his cousin, Mrs. W. H. Davidson, and called on old acquaintances, Saturday. He was a resident here forty years and after that was for a time on the editorial staff of the Janesville Gazette and managing editor of the leading Omaha Neb. paper. Since entering the Presbyterian ministry he has resided in Nebraska and Washington. This was his first visit here for thirty years and he noted many changes and improvements.

Other News.
Prof. H. H. Jackson and wife of Washington, D. C., are visiting Milton relatives. Prof. Jackson who is a graduate of Milton College, is an expert in the United Biological Bureau and is on an inspection tour in this state, Iowa and Minnesota. Their many friends are glad of an opportunity to meet them.

Light frost here this morning but not enough to do any damage.

Harrison Wilbur, of the National home at Milwaukee, is visiting his brother, W. H. Wilbur and other relatives.
Prof. H. H. Polak and wife, of Albia, spent Saturday here.
W. H. Whitte has sold his house and lot on High street to G. H. Johnson, consideration $1000.
Archie Hurley, of Welton, Iowa, is a visitor in the village.
W. D. Bliss of Madison spent Sunday with Milton relatives.

Beauty Now and Hereafter.

Beauty in God's handwriting, a way, side sacrament; welcome it, then, in every fair face, every fair sky, every fair flower; and be sure that yet gay, merrier and yet bluer skies await thee in the world to come.—Charles Kingsley.

Every time you read this paper and omit reading the want ads you miss a winded horse—it never wins a race.

HERRICK, HOLDER OF WORLD'S ROAD RACE RECORD, TO DRIVE IN SWEEPSTAKES RACE

Harvey Herrick, holder of the world's road race record, will drive a six-cylinder Dues car in the second annual five-hundred mile sweepstakes race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Monday Day. Herrick was a member of the National racing team in 1910 and won the Santa Monica event, establishing the road race record, as well as the Phoenix Desert road race. This is his first appearance in a contest outside of the Pacific coast territory.

Friction Transmission. Self Starter, Certainly!

Speed with safety--- power with easy control

The Cartercar has speed for the good roads and plenty of power for the bad—with such easy control and comfortable design—that it rides and drives easily at all times.

A tremendous pulling power is provided by the friction transmission. It has no gears and is joltless and noiseless. You also have any number of speeds—controlled with one lever. This adapts the car especially to country conditions.

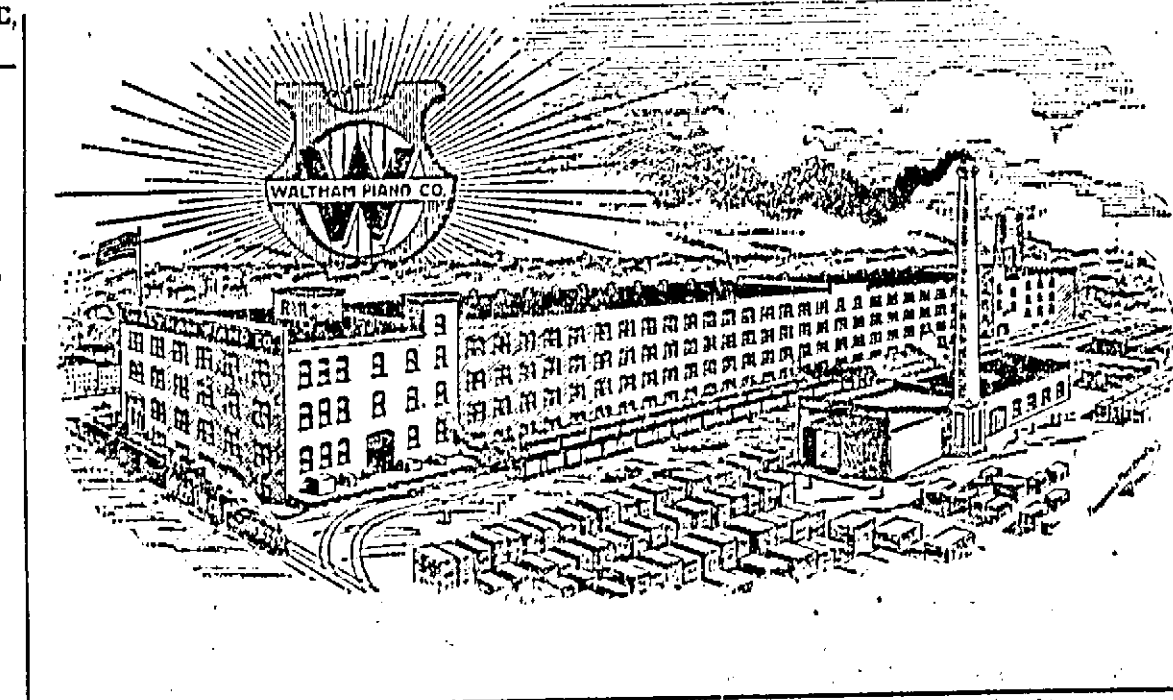

The self starter makes driving very delightful—especially for ladies. Full floating rear axle, chain-drive, three strong brakes and many other features combine to produce the remarkable Cartercar efficiency.

Five splendid models, touring cars, roadsters and coupes. Priced at from $1200 to $2100. Let us send you complete information.

WHY, NO

Mrs. Krusty—Those horrid boys tied a tin pall to a poor dog's tail and then chased him ten blocks. I'm going to have 'em arrested.

Mrs. Ankitt—Was it your dog?

Mrs. Krusty—No; but it was my tin pall.

UNCLE WALT

The Post Philosopher

BY WALT MASON

There's nothing but tears for the man who stears our ship o'er the troubled sea; there's nothing but grief for the nation's chief, whoever that chief may be. Whatever he does, he can hear the buzz of criticism as thick as flies; and all of his aims are sins and shames, and nothing he does is wise. There's nothing but kinks for the man who steers four years to the White House chair; and his stout heart aches and his wretched breaks and his lower most of his hair. There's nothing but growls and the knotters howls, and the spiteful slings and stings; and the vile cartoons and the dish of prunes and a chorus of tinkers' anathemas. Oh, we humble skaters in our low estates, who fuss with our garden snags, should view the woes of the men who rose above and beyond the mass, and be glad to-day that we go our way mild quiet and peaceful scenes; should thankfully take the hoe and rake, and wrestle with snags and greens!

WOULDN'T ANY WOMAN?

Mollie—She's great on adopting new fads.

Jack—But she objects to new wrinkles.

Deed worth while.

When you hear of friends or neighbors being seriously ill, go at once to inquire for them or send a cheering letter or card. Sometimes one delay calling until too late, and life-long regrets result.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, May 13, 1872.

Looking for an investment: A couple of gentlemen from the east, Messrs. Thayer and Thorn—the former from Utica, N. Y., and the latter from Toledo, Ohio—have been spending a few days in this city with the intention of investing in real estate. Both are heavy capitalists, and as they are favorably impressed with the city, it is probable they will invest some of their means here. The Thayer lots, the Hunter lot and a tract of land west of the depot have been examined by these gentlemen, but they have not yet concluded to purchase.

Brief items.

When sold as high as $1.50 per hundred today.

The hotel driving park opened today to stockholders and season ticket holders.

Notwithstanding the high price of wheat, little has been offered today, and dealers are not anxious to buy.

Hawley, the court house janitor, while cleaning the steam pump in the basement of that building this morning, left the end of one of his fingers in the machinery.

In the neighboring village of Edgerton the new liquor law is bearing down hard. Most of the saloons have closed and the drug stores decline to dispense spirituous comfort. A week ago one of the churches there had to postpone its communion services because no wine could be obtained.

General Hittler, editor-in-chief of the Gazette, started for the east this morning. He will remain about a month and before his return will cast his vote at the Philadelphia convention for General Grant.

Dr. J. W. St. John returned from his Texas trip on Saturday afternoon looking well and feeling highly elated over the pleasure of his exciting journey. His buffalo hunt was a sort of a failure. He took along, to carry his pockets, a handkerchief and a box of collars in a two-story, miniature roof, which he carried on his back. He was accompanied by a few of those untamed monsters of the plains, the trunk, with the rest of his baggage, was strapped to his saddle. The buffaloes were not accustomed to so much civilization and Doc was unable to get within shooting distance, so he killed a few jack rabbits and quit the business. But we are glad to see the Doctor home again.

CLINTON

Clinton, May 11.—Chas. Mayo, after many years faithful service as road foreman for the Chicago & Northwestern, has resigned and will take a well earned rest.

Charles Morris director for Rock Co. of the National Milk Producers' association was in town Wednesday. He says he will quit farming next fall and expects to move to Sharon, and engage in the hardware business.

Mrs. C. P. Drake and Wm. Ellithorpe went to Delavan Lake Thursday to clean up the Drake cottage on the assembly grounds.

Miss J. J. Polz now has his tin shop and plumbing business open for business in the N. J. Anderson old location.

Clinton Barham and Palmer Hamilton came home Thursday evening from the state university.

Miss Anna Woolston came home from Racine last evening to visit her parents.

Rumor has been rife on our streets that Clinton was to have a new modern brick hotel on the corner now occupied by the Commercial Hotel. It will be erected by the Pullman Brewing Co., who own the land. It is thought it will be three stories and modern in every respect.

Miss Banks of Evanston arrived last evening to visit her friends, Messdames Elizabeth and Anna Smith.

Mrs. J. Charles Evans of Cooper-town, North Dakota, spent Thursday night and Friday morning visiting her school days friend Mrs. E. B. Koezer.

Mrs. N. O. Tarbell of Lake Geneva who has been visiting her sister Mrs. A. J. Hoden returned home last evening.

Mrs. W. H. Hughes and Earl Horton spent Friday in Janesville and Beloit.

Mrs. Ed. Bailey's class of girls gave the "Old Maid's Convention," last night at the Congregational church to a good audience.

Riddle of the Sphinx.

The Sphinx—some sort of fabled monster—proposed a riddle to the people of Thebes. It is said, and murdered all who could not answer it. Oedipus finally solved it and in chagrin the Sphinx put herself to death. The riddle was as follows: "What goes on four feet in the morning, two feet in the afternoon and three at night?" The answer given by Oedipus was this: "Man; because he crawls as a child, walks upright in his full strength and walks with a staff when an old man."

Shibboleth.

Shibboleth, now taken as meaning the watchword or slogan of a particular sect or party, had its origin in the incident recorded in Judges 12:1-15, wherein the word shibboleth was used as a test by the Gileadites to detect their foes, the Ephraimites. The Ephraimites were unable to pronounce the combination sh, and when put to the test called the word "shibboleth," thus betraying their breed and giving away their cause.

Relic of Cruel Rome.

One of the most impressive of all the old ruins in Rome is the great Coliseum. It was in this open air amphitheater that the cruel spectacles were witnessed—gladiators fought in mortal combat, Christians were made to fight starving lions and tigers. Death was inevitable. The Coliseum had a seating capacity of 47,000 persons.

PUBLIC IS ASKED TO AID IN THE MATTER

Persons Answering Fraudulent Advertisements Asked to Notify Gazette.

The Gazette is desirous of keeping out of its columns fraudulent advertising and asks the assistance of its patrons to that end.

There are many number of concerns in the country who make a living through a nicely worded advertisement, offering golden opportunities, and these unscrupulous people find fertile ground for work among the masses.

Many orders are received in the Gazette mail for advertising which are returned as objectionable and where there is a question as to the qualifications the advertisement is omitted. All newspapers have this experience.

But even with the utmost care there will be an occasional advertisement which will pass the scrutiny of the business department of the paper and find its way into the columns.

The Gazette will deem it a favor if you will report to the office any trouble which may have been experienced through the answering of such an advertisement.

Emotions and the Senses.

Pleasurable sensations arouse pleasant emotions. The sunshine is always uplifting to some people, and the gloom always depressing—man has despised in darkness and taken their lives because of an oppression due to the dark. We can to a degree choose what our sensations shall be, and so to some extent determine our emotions, but the mere gratification of sense is nearly always followed by depressing emotions.

Wake Up With a "Dark Brown Taste?"

Get Rid of It! Run for OLIVE TABLETS

There isn't the slightest need to wake up any morning with a "brown mouth." Ugh! No need to describe it! Dr. Edwards has made "brown mouth" a thing of the past in thousands of homes with his little Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver and bowels, never has a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a pimply face, constipation or any other form of bowel or liver disorder. Take one just the moment you suspect you are constipated or that your liver is out of order. Thousands take one at bedtime every night just to keep the bowels regular, the liver in order, the mouth clean and the breath pure and sweet. Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent 17 years in practice and in laboratory experiments before he perfected Olive Tablets.

Why don't you try them instead of the severe kind of laxatives that grip and only affect temporary relief? Give your little Olive Tablet a movement all its own.

The Wreck of the Titan

"Not at all," said Rowland. "His lights were burning. Look to the old gentleman!" he exclaimed. "Look out for him! Catch him!"

Mr. Sulfridge was stumbling toward a chair. He grasped it, loosened his hold and before any one could reach him fell to the floor, where he lay with ashen lips and rolling eyes, gasping convulsively.

"Heart failure," said Rowland as he knelt by his side. "Send for a doctor."

"Send for a doctor," repeated Mr. Meyer through the door to his clerks. "And send him to the carriage. Quick! I don't want him to die in the office."

Captain Barry lifted the helpless figure to a couch, and they watched, while the convulsions grew easier, the breath shorter and the lips from ashen gray to blue. Before a doctor or carriage had come he had passed away.

"Sudden emotion of some kind," said the doctor when he did arrive. "Violent emotion too. Hear bad news?"

"Bad and good," answered the underwriter, "good in learning that this dear little girl was his granddaughter."

"Heart failure," said Rowland.

ter; had in learning that he was a ruined man. He was der heaviest stockholder in the Titan. One hundred thousand pounds he owned of der stock, all of which this poor, dear little child will not get." Mr. Meyer looked sorrowful as he put Myra on the floor.

Captain Barry beckoned to Rowland, who, slightly dazed, was standing by the still figure on the couch and watching the face of Mr. Meyer, on which misfortune, jubilation and simulated shock could be seen in turn.

"Wait," he said as he turned to watch the doctor leave the room. "Is this so, Mr. Meyer?" he added to the underwriter, "that Mr. Sulfridge owned Titan stock and would have been ruined had he lived by the loss of the insurance money?"

"Yes; he would have been a poor man. He had invested his last farthing—£100,000. And if he had left any more it would be assessed to make good his share of what der company must pay for der Royal Ago, which I also insured."

"Was there a collision clause in the Titan's policy?"

"Dere was."

"And you took the risk, knowing that who was to run the northern lane at full speed through fog and snow?"

"I did. So did others."

"Then, Mr. Meyer, it remains for me to tell you that the insurance on the Titan will be paid, as well as any liabilities included in and specified by the collision clause in the policy. In short, I, the one man who can prevent it, refuse to testify."

"What a—?"

Mr. Meyer grasped the back of the chair and, leaning over it, stared at Rowland.

"You will not testify? What you mean?"

"What I said, and I do not feel called upon to give you my reasons, Mr. Meyer."

"My good friend," said the underwriter, advancing with outstretched hands to Rowland, who backed away and, taking Myra by the hand, moved toward the door. Mr. Meyer springing ahead, locked it and removed the key and fixed them.

"Oh, mine good Gott," he shouted, relapsing in his excitement into more pronounced dialect, "what I do to you, hey? Why you go back on me, hey? Hat I not buy der doctor's bill? Hat I not buy for der carriage? Hat I not treat you like one gentleman? Hat I not, hey? I sit you down in mine office and call you Mr. Rowland. Hat I not been one gentleman?"

"Open that door," said Rowland quietly.

"Yes, open it," repeated Captain Barry, his puzzled face clearing at the prospect of action on his part. "Open it or I'll kick it down."

"But you, mine friend, heard der admission of der captain der derugging. One good witness will do. Two is better. But you will swear, mine friend. You will not ruin me."

"I stand by Rowland," said the captain grimly. "I don't remember what was said anywhere. Got a blamed bad memory. Get away from that door."

Glorious lamentation, weeping and wailing and the most genuine gnashing of teeth, interspersed with the feeble cries of the frightened Myra and punctuated by terse commands in regard to the door, filled that private office and ended at last with the crashing of the door from its hinges.

Captain Barry, Rowland and Myra, followed by a parting, heart borne malediction from the agitated underwriter, left the office and reached the street. The carriage that had brought them was still waiting.

"Settle inside," called the captain to the driver. "We'll take another, Rowland."

Around the first corner they found a cab, which they entered, Captain Barry giving the driver the direction—"Bark Peerless, East India dock."

"I think I understand the game, Rowland," he said as they started. "You don't want to break this child."

"That's it," answered Rowland weakly as he leaned back on the cushion, faint from the excitement of the last few moments, "and as for the right or wrong of the position I am in—why, we must go farther back for it than the question of lookouts. The cause of the wreck was full speed in a fog. All hands on lookout could not have seen that berg. The underwriter knew the speed and took the risk. Let them pay."

"Right, and I'm with you on it. But you must get out of the country. I don't know the law on the matter, but they may compel you to testify. You can't ship force the most again, that's settled. But you can have a berth, mate, with me as long as I sail a ship if you'll take it. And you're to make my cabin your home as long as you like, remember that. Still, I know you want to get across with the kid, and if you stay around until I sail it may be months before you get to New York with the chance of losing her by getting foul of English law. But just leave it to me. There are powerful interests at stake in regard to this matter."

What Captain Barry had in mind, Rowland was too weak to inquire. On their arrival at the bank he was assisted by his friend to a couch in the cabin, where he spent the rest of the day, unable to leave it. Meanwhile, Captain Barry had gone ashore again.

Returning toward evening he said to the man on the couch: "I've got your pay, Rowland, and signed a receipt for it to that attorney. He paid it out of his own pocket. You could have worked that company for fifty thousand or more."

CHAPTER VIII.

The Kidnaper.

IT WAS NEAR NOON OF THE NEXT DAY THAT ROWLAND, SEATED IN A STEAMER CHAIR WITH MYRA AND LOOKING OUT ON A SAIL SPANGLED stretch of blue from the saloon deck of a westbound liner, remembered that he had made no provision to have Mrs. Rowledge notified by cable of the safety of her child, and unless Mr. Meyer or his associates gave the story to the press it would not be known.

"Well," he mused, "joy will not kill, and I shall witness it in its fullness if I take her by surprise. But the chances are that it will get into the papers before I reach her. It is too good for Mr. Meyer to keep."

But the story was not given out immediately. Mr. Meyer called a conference of the underwriters concerned in the insurance of the Titan, at which it was decided to remain silent concerning the card they hoped to play and to spend a little time and money in hunting for other witnesses among the Titan's crew and in interviewing Captain Barry to the end of improving his memory. A few stormy meetings with this huge obstructionist convinced them of the futility of further effort in his direction, and, after finding at the end of a week that every surviving member of the Titan's port watch, as well as a few of the other, had been induced to sign for Cape voyages or had otherwise disappeared, they decided to give the story told by Rowland to the press in the hope that publicity would avail to bring to light corroboratory evidence.

And this story, improved upon in the repeating by Mr. Meyer to reporters and embellished still further by the reporters as they wrote it up, particularly in the part pertaining to the polar bear, blazoned out in the great dailies of England and the continent and was cabled to New York, with the name of the steamer in which John Rowland had sailed (for his movements had been traced in the search for evidence), where it arrived too late for publication the morning of the day on which, with Myra on his shoulder, he stepped down the gangplank at a North river dock. As a consequence he was surrounded on the dock by enthusiastic reporters, who spoke of the story and asked for details. He refused to talk, escaped them and, gaining the side streets, soon found himself in crowded Broadway, where he entered the office of the steamship company in whose employ he had been wrecked and secured from the Titan's passenger list the address of Mrs. Sulfridge, the only woman saved. Then he took a car up Broadway and alighted abreast of a large department store.

"We're going to see mamma soon," Myra, he whispered in the pink ear, "and you must go dressed up. It don't matter about me, but you're a Fifth Avenue baby—a little aristocrat. These old clothes won't do now." But she had forgotten the word "mamma" and was more interested in the exciting noise and life of the street than in the clothing she wore. In the store Rowland asked for and was directed to the children's department, where a young woman

Secret Revealed by Face.

If you want to get at the real strength and character of a person's face, study the right side of it—the ugly side, as portrait painters sometimes call it. There you will find the lines bold and harsh, with every defect accentuated. On the left side, however, everything is softened down, and the face is at its best. Whenever you suspect a man of trickery or deceit—and this rule applies equally to the fair sex—stand on his right and watch his expression closely.

Why His Head Ached.

Rowell one day complained to Johnson that the noise made by a group of literary men with whom they were dining the day before made his head ache. "No, sir; it was not the noise that made your head ache," replied Johnson. "It was the sense we put in to it." "Has sense that effect on the head?" asked Rowell. "Yes, sir; on heads not used to it," answered Johnson.

Too Shabby for a Servant.

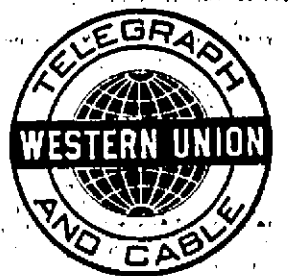

Coleridge was one day riding in Kegen's park in an unusually strange, shabby dress, when a number of his friends rode up and met him. Coleridge offered to full behind and pass as one of the party's servants. "No," one of them said, "I am proud of you as a friend; but, I must say, I should be ashamed of you as a servant."

A NERVOUS WRECK.

Mrs. Mae McKnight, of Oronogo, Mo., writes "I was simply a nervous wreck. I could not even walk across the floor without my heart fluttering and I suffered with such bearing down sensations every month. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has not only done my nerves a world of good, but has relieved me from pain and I am recommending it to my friends."

HON. CHARLES BARBER STATES WHY INSTITUTION BURDENS TAXPAYERS.

TOO MUCH IN POLITICS

Plays Game for Appropriations—Non-Resident Students Do Not Pay Cost of Tuition—Mill Tax an Evil.

With the rapid increase in taxation under the so-called reform administration in Wisconsin and the enactment of new and unpopular forms of taxation to help pay for "reforms," increased attention is being directed toward the University of Wisconsin, at whose door is laid the responsibility for a great part of the heavy burden now being shouldered by the taxpayer. Under such circumstances facts and figures, accurate, ungarbled, and complete, presented without the unreasoning prejudice which has characterized so much criticism of the university is of great value to the friends of the institution as well as to those who must pay the bills. The article published by Hon. Charles Barber in the May number of "The Starlight," and previously in the Chicago Northwestern is of this character.

Mr. Barber in opening his article disclaims any prejudice, one of his daughters having graduated from the institution, and he was once served as a member of the Board of Visitors. The university's faults, he declares, are those of management, and most prominent among these is the fact that it is costing the state too much; it is extravagant, and to a certain extent irresponsible, and that in dealing with taxpayers in money matters it does not act fairly or honestly. It is openly charged that the figures as to the cost of operating the institution are juggled and that President Van Hise has one set of figures for the legislature when he asks for appropriations, and another set of figures in his report to the United States Commissioner of Education.

"The receipts of the university from all sources for 1909 and 1910 were given by the regents themselves as $1,740,245.64. The total income of the university for 1909 and 1910 has been figured as follows:

From the state	$1,223,601
United States Government	68,000
Students fees excluding bed	212,529
Productive fund	22,046
Private benefactions	17,882
All other sources	147,358
	$1,897,417

The same year there was given to the legislature as a basis for appropriation, an enrollment of 4,947 students. Analyzed, however, it appears that of this number 741 attended the summer school only, and 561 the short course only, so that the net attendance for 1909 and 1910 was 3,645, and at no time were there actually more than that number enrolled.

The university payroll for February, 1910, according to the Secretary of state, shows teachers and librarians, 374; assistants, 122; fellows and scholars, 20; clerks, stenographers, engineers, janitors, laborers, 424; total, 940. This does not include university extension teachers, employees of Chabourne Hall, the names on the latter, chess, and creature experts payrolls to the number of seventy-seven, or the twenty-six persons on the agricultural institute payrolls, in all 170 persons, making the grand total of 1,128.

Mr. Barber finds there is one employee to every four students. The standards of universities in other states range from one to twenty-six in Iowa, down to one to fourteen and fifteen in Minnesota and Michigan.

Again the gross cost per student in the Wisconsin university is way above that of neighboring institutions. It is $410 in Wisconsin against $282 in Minnesota, $240 in Iowa and $280 in Illinois. It costs more to run the Wisconsin university today than it did the entire state government not many years ago. The salaries of the faculty alone in 1909 and 1910 amounted to nearly $700,000, while the expenses of the president, of the regents, salaries of clerks and stenographers reached in round numbers the sum of $78,000. Traveling expenses alone were $18,000.

One of the most expensive features of the university is the fact that a large number of alien and non-resident students are being educated there at a burdensome cost to the people of the state. The number in 1909 and 1910 is given as 887, but in reality it is much greater as many registering from Madison are non-residents. In 1911 Mr. Hull stated on the floor of the assembly that the number was 1,000. It costs the taxpayers of the state to educate these 887 non-resident students, figuring that each pays $84 tuition the sum of $280,102, almost the entire cost of running the university in 1910.

Much of the extravagance in university matters is attributed by Mr. Barber to the wretched system of making appropriations in advance and the mill tax. Beginning at one-tenth of a mill it has arisen to three-eighths of a mill, notwithstanding the fact that the assessed value of the property of the state has grown enormously through the addition thereto of railway property. The mill tax is expected to bring in 1911 and 1912 the sum of $2,175,000. In addition to this enormous sum there was appropriated for buildings, university, and agricultural extensions $1,255,000. One hundred and fifty-six acres of land was purchased at $1500 an acre aggregating $235,000. The annual income of the university is something over $2,000,000.

President Van Hise has announced that in this generation he intends to make the number of the students ten thousand. The old time law that the object and purpose of the university should be to provide the inhabitants of the state with a means of acquiring an education, has been repealed, and a broader law enacted inviting the world to send students to it for instruction. What care we who have children to educate or have to pay the bills, whether the enrollment is five thousand or ten thousand and whether it is greater or less than that of Columbia, Chicago, Harvard, or Yale? What care we whether upon the roll there are Hindus, Japs, Chinese, or Persians. It may gratify the ambition of President Van Hise and his supporters to boast of the cosmopolitan character of the university, but the average man or woman of Wisconsin would greatly prefer a practical and efficient institution maintained at a reasonable cost. Increased enrollment means more buildings and more land, purchased at enormous cost.

The university now absorbs about one-fifth of all our state revenues and if the ratio of expenses is increased we will soon pay a mill on a dollar and what will be left for the smaller educational institutions in our cities and villages. It is a gross injustice to take from the people two million dollars a year to educate four or five thousand young men and women at Madison, nearly one-fourth of whom are alien and non-residents, especially when that money and more is greatly needed for school purposes at our very doors.

My next charge against the university is that it is in politics and has become a propaganda of partisan doctrine. That it is in politics I think there is no attempt to conceal. This is contrary to the spirit of our forefathers who when they framed the constitution expressly provided that there should be no sectarian instruction in the university. They never for a moment dreamed that in a state educational institution, supported by a people at large, that the objects and purposes of the same would be prostituted by a connection with politics.

I go further and say that without this statute, as a legal proposition, the state has no right to take any money under the guise of an educational purpose and then spread the doctrines of any political party or any political faith, and that it is the duty of the board of regents to remove any member of the faculty who offends even but a little in this respect.

It is no wonder as Mr. Cary, Superintendent of Public Instruction has pointed out, that there exists in such an institution glaring defects and irregularities; that some teachers are paid too little and others too much; and that some are drawing double pay; that the hours of service of some are too short and others too long, and that under the guise of research work much time and money are spent for which it is doubtful that the public receive any considerable benefit. These things are but the symptoms of the disease that has taken hold of the institution. Politics like pitch, are sure to defile. When President Van Hise opened the door and let in politics, petty graft and irregularities entered hand in hand.

In concluding the article Mr. Barber makes the following suggestions:

First. The amendment of the organic law of the university, permitting the president, or any member of the faculty to be ex-officio a member of the board of regents, or of its standing committees, should be repealed.

Second. The Board of Regents should be reformed in fact, not in name. At present they receive no salaries, only their necessary expenses. If advisable the law should be amended and they should receive a reasonable compensation so that they can afford to give the business of the institution the attention it deserves.

Third. A halt should be called in expenditures, and at the next session of the legislature the vicious system of giving the university money by an automatic levy of two-sevenths or three-eighths of a mill should be changed. President Van Hise and his associates should be obliged to come before the legislature at each session and the whole amount of the appropriation should be fixed by a proper budget.

Fourth. The tuition of the non-resident pupils should be increased so as to cover the actual amount of the cost of each pupil. A thorough investigation in this regard should be made and the cost should be fixed, not upon juggled figures and garbled statements, but upon a fair and square business basis.

Fifth. Last of all and most important, the unwelcome marriage, a disgusting subjugation, contrary to law, between our noble university and politics, a repulsive and dusky mate should at once be terminated. If necessary legal steps should be taken to accomplish this result.

Temperament.
The poet says that we live by admiration, hope and love. Strong feelings not only affect our bodily processes, but they react upon the mind and make life worth living or death desirable. Feeling or emotion is what makes that desirable thing, temperament, which is but another word for interesting character.

Naturalization Papers Not Needed.
The American rule is that a child born and remaining in the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States is a citizen, and within its allegiance and protection, irrespective of the birth or nationality of his parents, and hence would not be obliged to take out papers of naturalization.

THE THEATERS

"IN A PERSIAN GARDEN"

One of the most pretentious features of the May Operatic carnival, which will be given by the Rockford Mendelssohn club, in its own building May 15, 16, 17 evenings, will be a sumptuous performance of "In a Persian Garden" on May 16. While this will be but one of the star attractions of the carnival, it would be quite sufficient as a single attraction. The stage setting for this operatic stage picture will be a masterpiece of elaborate in oriental detail. The costumes will be rich and appropriate and the artists will be selected with the utmost regard for their special fitness. "In a Persian Garden," from The Tablans, lends a peculiar charm to the occasion. There is nothing quite like it, nothing which admits of more refinement in stage investment, containing and vocal interpretation. While the Mendelssohn club has done "In a Persian Garden" before, this performance will far eclipse any of its previous successes.

MONTE CARLO GIRLS BIG BUSINESS

Gaily, frivolity and hilarity will bring matters to a lively climax at the Myers Theatre, Thursday May 16, when the popular Monte Carlo Girls will be ushered in and introduced to local theatre patrons many new and novel features. The attraction is a musical burlesque of class—it serves the purpose in all the term applies. There are two one act burlesques, the first being called "At Monte Carlo," said to count in one hundred laughs and is a scream from start to finish. The second burlesque is entitled "Looking For a Wife" when the brand of comedy let loose is not laughs, but screams from beginning to end.

The principal comedian is Mr. Harry Welsh, the best in his line, and once seen becomes firmly established with his audience. Supporting Mr. Welsh such expert funmakers as Max Fields, Hopper & Rovel, Eva Sullivan, Myrtle Clark. While the ladies who have parts in the skits are includes that petite and vivacious personage, Eva Sullivan, the essence of frivolity and mirth—a soubrette with a prima donna voice, a versatile gift rare indeed. Myrtle Clark is with the big show, and if Myrtle don't "cop" your heart by her own inimitable style you will have to possess supernatural power, and then you will have the coquettish Miss Gray—to encounter, if you can dislodge her charms and "get by" her you will be doing pretty well, for a while. The next to face you will be the peerless La Neta, a premiere danseuse of the sensational order, an act that inspires. Then comes the English Models, La Neta's big number presenting a series of classic tableaux, and vivid portrayals of modern pose and poetry in a brilliant manner, while the big noise of the Monte Carlo Girls is the girls themselves. An aggregation of beauty and charm, gorgeously and stunningly attired in seventeen changes of costume. These beauties, brimmers and ponies appear constantly during the performance in the newest musical numbers and dances. The songs are the latest New York hits, the kind the boys will be whistling on leaving the theatre. All this beauty, magnificence, splendor, comedy and movement crowded into one evening should certainly please the fastidious.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

CONSUMPTION OF MEAT BOUND TO DECREASE.

Prof. Alfonso E. Taylor says in the Popular Science Monthly (December): "We cannot all be vegetarians, because there would not be vegetables enough for us in the world to eat," adding that sufficient vegetable food could not be grown to support the human race. He admits that the vegetarian diet is as good as the mixed diet, but says it cannot become universal and that the vegetarians can indulge their preference because the others are willing.

Enough carbohydrate could be grown in the tropics alone to support us all, and Texas and California can produce enough ground and tree nuts to furnish the fat and proteid supply for the American people. We have called attention to the fact that we must all learn to do without flesh meat, in time, because the land will be needed for the production of vegetable food and cotton. This condition already exists in China. Fortunately, as Prof. Taylor admits, there is already sufficient evidence to show that the non-flesh diet is as good as, if not better than the mixed diet.
